AF Wants Land For 600 More Houses

$68,500 Price Proposed For 202-Acre Site North Of Present Development

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

Mayor Bennett Martin said he has been advised of a proposed purchase by the government of another 202.45 acres of land at the Lincoln Air Force Base as a site for construction of another 600 Base housing units.

A representative of the Army Corps of Engineers in Omaha proposed that the land be acquired in a "friendly condemnation" action for a price of $68,500.

The tract under consideration is directly north of the present 400-unit housing development at the Base and south of Huskerville said, would have no effect upon Huskerville.

$270 Cut

The $202.45 acres contain one three-unit apartment, an old fire station building and an old filling station. If the city wants to remove these buildings for its own use, it could do so for a cut of $270 in the government purchase price, according to Martin.

The price figures out at $300 an acre plus $7,500 for the old buildings. This is the same rate per acre paid by the government for acquisition of the 149 acres on which the present housing is being erected.

It is not expected that any of the 600 units will be available before 1958. Only 105 units of the original 400-unit project are now occupied.

By November

Base personnel are to move into another 100 of the 400 by July 1 and into the remaining units by November.

The additional 600 units have already been programmed, according to Air Base authorities, but not yet authorized for construction. This authorization is not expected until after the land is acquired.

In a "friendly condemnation," the parties involved generally negotiate a purchase price which is then approved by the courts.

Martin said he would present the matter to the City Council on Monday.

Whatever funds the city receives for the land will go toward retirement of airport bonds. The original $150,000 airport bond issue for 2,100 acres of land now has an outstanding balance of $70,000.

The issue would thus be cleaned up by the city with the money received from the 202.45 acre sale.

Massive Sea Hunt Pressed

Craft Is Presumed Down Off Coast Of Japan

TOKYO, (Friday) (AP) — A U.S. military transport plane carrying 67 Americans was missing over the Pacific Friday.

A combined air-sea search had found no trace of the craft 14 hours after it disappeared 200 miles southeast of Tokyo and 8½ hours after the Air Force said it would have run out of fuel.

Spokesmen at Travis Air Force Base, the plane's starting point near San Francisco, said the 57 passengers aboard were all military personnel except for one military dependent. The four-engine C-97, a military version of the Boeing Stratocruiser, carried a crew of 10 and was operated by the Military Air Transport Service (MATS).

Earlier Travis Base had said the passengers included military dependents, civilians and one woman civil service employee as well as military personnel.

The plane left Wake Island Thursday afternoon on the 9½ hour flight to Tokyo, the last leg of its Pacific crossing from Travis Air Base.

Join Search

More than a score of planes and U.S. Navy and Japanese ships joined in the search. Huge 30-foot swells and heavy winds hampered the ships and brought fears that the plane might have broken up and gone down before life rafts could be launched.

An Air Force spokesman estimated the plane would float about two hours after ditching if it did not break up in the landing.

The plane had been scheduled to land at the MATS terminal of Tokyo's International Airport at 2:15 a.m. (Japan time).

This would be the seventh air disaster in the Far East in the past 28 days. In the first six, more than 80 persons were killed or are missing — among the dead Philippine president Ramon Mag-saysay.

The search began in pre-dawn darkness, as soon as the plane was reported overdue. All Air Force planes flying other missions at the time were diverted to the area.

A Japanese Coast Guard ship already in the area was flashed an alert and immediately took up the search, the Air Force said.

More than a score of other planes were in the air in the early morning hours.

Before the C-97 was reported overdue there had been six major air disasters in the Far East in the last month.

Philippine President Ramon Mag-saysay and 25 others were killed when his presidential plane crashed into a jungle ridge in the Philippines last Sunday; only a Filipino newsmen survived that disaster.

MOISTURE TO SPREAD OVER STATE

Precipitation was in store for all of Nebraska Friday.

The Weather Bureau predicted snow in the west and central areas Friday, and snow in the north and west, rain or snow in east-central Nebraska and showers and thunderstorms in the extreme southeast Friday night.

There was little moisture in the state Thursday. Lincoln, Omaha and Beatrice reported light rain.

General showers recorded in Kansas and over the entire southern Plains and west Gulf region, led to local rises in many streams of central and eastern Texas and Louisiana.

Plains Outlook Better

But sunshine and gusty winds during the afternoon alleviated the flood threat in Texas and the Weather Bureau in Washington said this spring brings the best outlook in the past five years for the drought-stricken Plains.

Western Nebraska and western Kansas recently have received less relief from the seven-year dry spell than other parts of the region.

Strong northerly winds were to accompany the snow into western Nebraska Friday and spread over the state as temperatures were to turn colder following the 68-degree high at Chadron Thursday.

Lincoln had a temperature range of 42 to 48. Lows of 26 degrees were registered at Imperial and Sidney.

Big 2 Views Agree

Ike, Mac Reach Accord On Mideast

TUCKER'S TOWN, Bermuda (AP) — President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan were reported Thursday night to have reached a "gratifying measure of agreement" on future moves solving crucial Middle East problems including the Suez Canal issue.

British and American spokesmen used the phrase "gratifying measure of agreement" in describing progress in four hours of meetings in the Mid-Ocean Club. It was the first day of their conference. Later it was learned that the two government chiefs had:

1. Discussed with considerable accord steps which may have to be taken when the present negotiations of U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold with Egypt's President Nasser over payments of Suez tolls either succeed or fail.

2. Referred to a committee of experts for detailed study a British proposal for promoting construction of an Iraq-Turkey pipeline by making an American-British treaty with those countries guaranteeing permanent freedom of oil flow.

3. Blocked out in principle possible moves to establish international nature of the Strait of Tiran to assure free passage of all ships into the Gulf of Aqaba. Resort may be made to the world court or other international agency.

4. Considered a formula for solving the immediate problem of the Gaza Strip by getting UNEF troops stationed at key points on both sides of the Israeli-Gaza border and fixing U.N. responsibility for security inside the strip with Egypt retaining civilian administration.

British spokesman Peter Hope told a news conference at the end of the day's second two-hour session that much agreement had been disclosed in discussions on the Middle East so far.

U.S. spokesman James C. Hagerty, endorsing this, emphasized, however, that views were by no means completely in accord, although the degree of agreement was much greater than expected.

Backing Dag

Neither spokesman gave details of the discussion, but fully informed officials later outlined the main points which came up.

American officials stressed that for the moment the United States is backing 100 per cent Hammarskjold's negotiations in Cairo and no final decisions will be made here regarding any moves on Suez until he has reported to the U.N.

Clearly, however, the basis for future British-U.S. co-operation on this, as on other problems, is being laid.

Eisenhower and Macmillan put the Middle East first in their first day of formal consultations aimed at bolstering British-American unity.

Assault, Robbery Is Investigated

The county sheriff's office was investigating early Friday morning a complaint by Jack White, 33, 10th and P. that he was assaulted and robbed of three or four dollars and his billfold by six young men from whom he accepted a ride after meeting them in a Lincoln bar, county officials said.

White told officials that the incident took place on a county road near the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Byrd 'Cuts' Told

Alternate Budget To Drop Price $6½ Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Byrd (D-Va) Thursday night described President Eisenhower's budget as "the worst yet" and called for reductions totaling 6½ billion dollars.

He would apportion the cuts this way: Military — atomic programs 1½ billion. Foreign aid two billion.

Domestic programs three billion.

In a Senate speech setting Sen. Byrd out in a broad outline where he thought reductions would be made — he said he would follow through with details later — Byrd said:

"This budget is dangerous in the extreme, because it entrenches wasteful federal spending and embarks on many new projects which will compel larger and larger budgets as the years go on."

Byrd, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, spoke out amid a clamor in Congress and elsewhere for trimming the record peacetime budget Eisenhower submitted for the new fiscal year beginning July 1.

12-Month Period

Eisenhower's budget calls for federal spending of $71,800,000,000 in the 12-month period and new appropriations of $73,300,000,000.

Byrd called the budget "a complete reversal of the retrenchment policy to which this administration pledged itself."

"This budget is the worst yet," he said. "It begins another spending spree which will continue inflation and increase the cost of living."

Byrd said it would not be forgotten that Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey "denounced this budget presented by his own administration as authorizing expenditures which, if continued, would lead to a depression which would 'curl your hair.'"

In outlining where he believes appropriation cuts are "practical and feasible," Byrd said that in subsequent speeches he would submit detailed justifications for his proposals.

'Squeezing'

He said the 1½ billion he would cut from requested appropriations for the defense and atomic programs and other national security activities would not curtail any essential activity but was based simply on "squeezing out waste."

He added it still would leave $39,600,000,000 in new appropriations for these programs, in addition to $40,100,000,000 in unexpended balances left from previous years' appropriations.

Byrd said that a two billion dollar cut in requests for foreign aid and other international activities would leave military assistance at this year's level of two billion, for a saving of half a billion and effect a cut of 1½ billion in economic aid.

Eisenhower proposed outlays in this field totaling $4,362,000,000. Wholly aside from these proposed reductions, Byrd said there are unexpended balances of four billion for military aid and $2,200,000,000 for economic aid.

HOT TIME IN CITY HALL

Smoke and flames pour from windows of Chicago's City Hall after fire broke out suddenly on the second floor of the building

Chicago's City Hall Hit By Flash Fire

Firemen Rescue Trapped Women; Damage Set At $200,000

CHICAGO (AP) — A fierce fire flashed through the lower sections of the City Hall Thursday night, briefly trapping a number of women employees. However firemen fought their way to the imperiled women and all were rescued.

None was reported seriously injured.

None was reported seriously injured.

Cause of the fire was not determined immediately. Damage to the 48-year-old building was estimated at $200,000 by Chief Fire Marshal Albert Peterson.

Flames burst suddenly about 6:15 p.m., CST from the building's second floor, shattering windows. Edward Kitch, an Associated Press employee walking to his office across the street, had to run to safety as the flames smashed through a window over his head. The spectacle drew thousands of persons to watch fire and smoke pouring out of the northwest part of the block-square, 12-story structure.

Controlled

The fire broke out shortly after the hall had been emptied of most of its thousands of daytime employees. Firemen controlled it in about two hours.

One of those still on hand was Mayor Richard J. Daley. He quietly ushered his personal staff from the building and later aided a cleaning woman, blinded by smoke, to escape.

A man, believed to be a porter, was rescued from a third floor ledge by firemen on ladders.

The fire started in the City Council chambers on the second floor and spread to the third floor.

City And County

The building bounded by Randolph, LaSalle, Washington and Clark Streets in the downtown section, is shared by offices of both city and (Cook) County agencies.

The west half is occupied by city offices, the east by the county. The county section did not appear to have been affected by the flames.

After getting a roaring start in the Council chambers on the second floor, the flames spread upward through outside windows and inner stairwells to the fourth and fifth floors. However, damage was not as extensive on the two upper floors.

LINCOLN PAIR PICKED WRONG MAN TO INSULT

Two Lincoln men found out Thursday that it doesn't pay to make obscene remarks to local motorists — especially when the motorist is a police captain.

The men pleaded guilty in Municipal Court and were fined $25 each on charges of using foul, obscene and indecent language. They reportedly pulled along side of Det. Capt. Paul Beave early Thursday morning as he was driving home from work.

They allegedly cursed and insulted Beave, who was not in uniform and was driving his own car.

Nixon Home; Fence-Mending Is Needed

REFUGEE PROBLEM IS GREAT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon returned from his 20,000-mile African good will tour Thursday, happy about the welcome he received, but concerned about some things he learned.

On the latter score, he called urgently for a "more satisfactory solution" of the problem of some 900,000 Arab refugees whose plight is adding to Mideast turmoil.

"We've got to do more than we have done," he said. "You can't just brush the problem aside and say it'll go away. It's got to be dealt with."

Nixon's words clearly foreshadowed one of the main recommendations he will make to President Eisenhower.

Keeps Cropping Up

The question of the Arab refugees from Palestine kept cropping up in the Arab countries he visited in Africa.

Talking to reporters en route home, Nixon acknowledged the refugee problem is "more important than I had anticipated" in dealing with what he called the "cancer" of the Arab-Israeli conflict.

The Vice President, obviously weary by his exhausting 22-day trip and a stubborn head cold, offered no specific formula for solving the problem of what to do with the poverty-stricken refugees.

For the past seven years the United Nations relief fund has been feeding and housing them in makeshift emergency camps in Jordan, the Gaza Strip, Lebanon and Syria amid continuing demands by Arab governments they be allowed to return to their former homes in Palestine.

Nixon, in discussing the question which bobbed up in six of the eight countries he visited, made clear he believes the American government must assume the lead in drafting a new plan for their welfare, even if it means donating substantial sums of money to find permanent homes for these war victims. He put it in these words:

All Must Help

"If we are going to have peace in the Middle East and a long-range solution of the critical Israeli-Arab conflict, then all of the interested democratic nations must make a greater contribution both economically and from the standpoint of leadership to solve this troublesome problem. And that includes the United States."

Nixon said a "higher priority" of importance must be assigned to the African area because, he asserted, this continent in the next 25 years will be a decisive battleground between East and West in the struggle for the survival of democracy. This means more and better trained diplomats must be sent to the region to realize the stakes involved.

Elizabeth Signs Compromise Bill On Death Penalty

LONDON (AP) — Britain's controversial homicide bill was signed into law by Queen Elizabeth Thursday.

The bill, introduced by the government as a compromise in the nine-year-old dispute on whether to abolish capital punishment, restricts the death penalty to five classes of "capital murder" and to repeated killers.

The five classes cover murder by shooting or causing explosions, killing police, killing prison officials, killing during theft and killing while avoiding arrest.

The bill prescribes life imprisonment for "noncapital" murders, including poisoning.

3 Inmate Escapees Still Sought

By DEL HARDING
Star Staff Writer

Lawmen in Nebraska and neighboring states Thursday night were still searching for three of five men who escaped from the Lincoln State Hospital.

Two of the men — Jack Ward, 20, of Lincoln, and Leo Gilbert, 16, of Omaha — were apprehended Thursday afternoon in Omaha by police as the pair walked along a downtown street.

The other three escapees — Bob Coons, 24, Virgil Riley, 20, both of Omaha, and James Hunter, 28, of Lincoln apparently have eluded law officials.

It was believed the trio stole a car belonging to Mrs. Ernest Frye at Martell, Neb. This auto was found abandoned Thursday morning at Rogers, Neb. A second car, belonging to Elmer Swanberg of Wahoo, was reported stolen from Rogers, and had not yet been recovered.

The five men escaped about 8 p.m. Wednesday from a maximum security ward on the first floor of the 87-year-old four-story stone administration building at the hospital. Three guards were overpowered by the men and their keys stolen. The inmates unlocked two wooden doors with the keys and fled. Nearly one hundred lawmen searched fruitlessly for them throughout the night.

Gilbert told Omaha police he was angry with hospital authorities for locking him in a "seclusion room" last Friday for "shooting rubber bands at some of the kids." "I told them never to lock me up like that," he said.

Used Tunnels

Gilbert and Ward claimed to have been separated from the other three while using the tunnels which connect all hospital buildings to make good their escape. The tunnels, which are lighted at all times, are used by hospital personnel and patients in bad weather.

Hospital officials went to Omaha and returned Gilbert and Ward to Lincoln. The escapees claimed to have stolen two other cars in Omaha, ridden around in them and abandoned them before they were captured. They also reportedly stole about $2 from a poorbox in an Omaha church.

Gilbert and Ward were transferred from the Kearney Industrial School. Hunter was committed from the State Penitentiary and Coons has no penal record.

Ward was at first erroneously identified as John Sanford Ward, a hospital inmate who was one of 11 convicts who captured two Penitentiary guards in March, 1955, and held them hostage.

All Dangerous

Dr. F. L. Spradling, superintendent of the hospital, had termed all five of the men "dangerous." He said hospital authorities had received a tip last week that the men were planning an escape, so they were moved into the maximum security ward.

The ward, he said, was in the process of being readied to accommodate maximum security patients. Thirty-six such patients are kept on the fourth floor of the same building. Dr. Spradling said, but lack of space prevented lodging the five escapees there. They were placed in the first floor ward with 29 elderly men patients.

Hunter Riley Ward

Gilbert Coons

The ward was formerly used entirely for elderly men, the doctor said. He added that there normally would have been five guards on duty in the ward, but that he had not had a chance to screen his guard force to determine which were best fitted for duty in the new security ward.

Dr. Spradling said the overcrowded conditions in the maximum security wards would be alleviated when construction of a new, $800,000 134-bed maximum security building is completed in about 10 months. A fence will surround this building, he said.

Dr. Spradling said the last time a patient escaped from the maximum security ward was more than 10 years ago. On this occasion he related, the inmate's mother bribed a guard for a key. The patient was later recaptured.

AF Cancels Contract For Giant C-132

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Air Force Thursday cancelled its contract with Douglas Aircraft Company for the construction of the world's largest transport plane, the C-132.

The Air Force had announced last month that it was "considering" a termination of the contract. The statement Thursday said a final decision was reached after "careful consideration of the relative priorities" of the Air Force's combat needs.

The statement said that the Douglas plant at Tulsa, Okla., where a wooden mock-up of the C-132 was built, is of "continuing importance" to the Air Force. It said there will be sufficient other work to assure economic operation of the plant and to "maintain a major portion of the present labor force."

Transport requirements will be met, the announcement said, by extending the life of the present cargo fleet and by using planes such as the C-130 and the C-133 that are already in production.

The C-132 would have been capable of lifting 100 tons — even more than the B-36 bomber, which it would have resembled in size.

Lost Initiative

PARIS (AP) — Robert Lacoste, French resident minister in Algiers, said Algerian Nationalist rebels have lost the initiative and that France can win soon if it shows determination.

MID-AIR CRASH KILLS 3

MOLINE, Ill. (AP) — Three men were killed Thursday when the plane they were in collided in the air with another aircraft whose landing gear they were checking.

William Johnson, about 35, pilot of a two-engine Cessna which had landing gear trouble, managed to land his plane without injury to himself.

The victims were William Rissman, 34, Muscatine, Ia., head of Aeroline Flight Service Co.; Chester Loose, 48, Davenport, the firm's head mechanic, and Marvin Jones, an employee of the firm. Both two-engine planes were owned by Deere and Co., farm equipment manufacturers, which operates a fleet of planes for its executives.

Ernest H. Mann, chief of the Civil Aeronautics Administration, gave this account:

Johnson noticed his landing gear was not working and radioed the Quad City Airport at Moline for aid.

The three men went up in an Aero-Commander to make a visual check of the landing gear. As the planes flew close to each other they collided.

Johnson said the Aero-Commander pulled underneath at about 4,000 feet to look at his landing gear. He said the ill-fated plane either hit an updraft or downdraft and his propellers apparently chewed the tail of the other plane to bits. The damaged plane went into a spin and hit the ground.

3-Year-Old Saves Brother, 2, From Plunge Off Of Roof

CHICAGO (AP) — A three-year-old girl clung desperately to her 2-year-old brother's fingers and saved him from sliding off the sloping roof of their two-story home Thursday.

The girl, Cynthia Mares, held her brother, Frank Jr., by the fingertips for about four minutes while she called frantically for their mother, Esther, who was ironing on the floor below.

"Suddenly I heard Cynthia call 'Mommy, Frankie's out the window,'" Mrs. Mares said. "I ran upstairs and found her holding the boy by the very tips of his fingers."

The children had been playing in the upstairs room of their South Side home when Frank crawled through the window. If Cynthia hadn't grabbed his fingers he could have fallen about 30 feet to the pavement below.

More Cut From Ike Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee whittled away a little more Thursday on the $71,800,000,000 federal budget, proposing an over-all cut of almost 4 per cent in Welfare and Labor Department spending.

It recommended reductions of $118,774,700 in the amounts President Eisenhower asked for these two departments and related agencies. This brought to about 800 million dollars total reductions the committee has proposed in five appropriation bills covering items for which Eisenhower asked $13,400,000,000.

The committee has yet to act on bills covering White House requests for almost 60 billion dollars. Eisenhower has asked for $73,300,000,000 appropriations for the fiscal year beginning July 1, with the announced intention of spending $71,800,000,000 of the total during the year.

No Bills Yet

So far, the House has gone along with or exceeded the cuts recommended by its Appropriations Committee. The Senate has passed no appropriation bills yet this year; it usually votes higher appropriations than the House.

Principal figures in Thursday's bill:

Health, Education and Welfare Department—$2,483,836,581, a cut of $98,278,000 below the White House requests.

Labor Department—$364,366,300, a cut of $20,311,700.

National Labor Relations Board—$9,450,000, a cut of $125,000.

National Mediation Board—$1,295,000, no cut.

Mediation and Conciliation Service—$3,550,000, a cut of $60,000.

The biggest cut the committee recommended was one of $79,400,000 in funds for public assistance grants to states. The committee recommended a figure of $1,600,000,000, which is still 25 million dollars more than was appropriated for the current year.

Nebraskan And Companion Jailed On Iowa Charges

STORM LAKE, Ia. (AP) — A man and woman who fled from police and a state highway patrolman Thursday were caught about 15 miles northwest of here and returned to the city jail.

The couple, who identified themselves as Ethel Juanita Costanza, 32, Kansas City, and Charles Joseph Ellsworth, 36, Valley, Neb., raced out of town after police asked them to go to the station for questioning.

Police had been called when employees of a Storm Lake store suspected shoplifting, authorities said.

70 MPH Chase

Police said they lost sight of the couple's 1957 car after it raced out of town at speeds in excess of 70 mph.

Highway Patrolman Joe Dixon spotted the auto and apprehended the couple after a chase at high speed northwest of Storm Lake.

Miss Costanza and Ellsworth were charged with reckless driving and grand larceny here and charged by the Patrol with running stop signs outside the city.

FATEFUL CHAIN OF EVENTS CLAIMS FIVE MINNESOTANS

MAHONOMET, Minn. (AP) — A high voltage power line, dragged into a water-filled ditch by a careening car, killed three would-be rescuers early Thursday as they ran to the wrecked auto in which two others already were dead.

The fateful chain of events came after the car, carrying eight young persons home from a dance, plunged off U.S. Highway 59, 10 miles north of this small northwestern Minnesota community.

The car sheared off a power pole carrying a 34,500-volt line. Three young men from two cars passing the scene were electrocuted as they came in contact with the high voltage. Six of the eight persons in the wrecked car managed to reach dry land and safety.

Killed were: William E. Schultz, 28, driver of the wrecked car, and one of his passengers, Donald Haugen, 21, both of Winger, Minn. Marvin Duncan Jr., 18, and Orville Rolf, 18, both of Fosston, Minn., who leaped from the first car in an attempt to rescue the crash victims. And Clark Hoidahl, 21, Winger, who arrived on the scene in a second car.

Teamsters Boss Denies He Threatened Racketeer With Murder

... Brewster Says No Warning Made

WASHINGTON (INS) — West Coast Teamsters boss Frank W. Brewster denied under oath Thursday that he threatened a Portland, Ore., racketeer with murder unless he co-operated in a plot to control commercialized vice.

Confronted with the prior testimony of gambler James B. Elkins, who swore that Brewster warned him he would wind up in a lake "wearing concrete boots" unless he played ball in the vice scheme, the Teamsters official said:

"I never said that to him or anyone in my life. I never threatened people."

Earlier, a blanket subpoena was slapped on Brewster's financial records as senators probing labor racketeering grilled him about a secret $400,000 loan his union made to a Canadian trucking company.

Wirepuller

The subpoena covered Brewster's complicated operations as labor leader, horse racing magnate, political wirepuller, and private investor.

Brewster denied all knowledge of the Portland vice plot which Elkins had described in lurid detail.

He blamed his dead colleague, the late John J. Sweeney, secretary-treasurer of the Teamsters Western Conference, for permitting Seattle hoodlum Tom Maloney to live and travel at union expense. Elkins name Maloney as an agent of Brewster in the Portland vice rackets.

Brewster said he didn't know "what Maloney was doing for Sweeney." He denied that he approved a $3,900 union loan to Maloney but admitted he had said he had "no objection" to the loan, which enabled Maloney to open a card room and restaurant.

No Objection

The union official also said he had voiced "no objection" to the Spokane local, which made the loan to Maloney, advancing $17,000 to Sam Sellenis, a gambler.

He conceded that committee figures showing that Sellenis paid Brewster's Clearbrook Stock Farm $4,148 for the "board and training" of a horse were correct.

Under questioning by committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy, Brewster testified that as of Dec. 31, 1956, he owed various teamsters units "79,000 and some odd dollars" for loans made to him.

The probers said that Brewster would be recalled to the witness stand Friday for further questioning.

At the same time, the investigating committee announced that Dave Beck, international president of the teamsters brotherhood, had notified them he would appear as directed next Tuesday with the records of his personal financial dealings.

But committee chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) said it still was not clear whether Beck would make his records available for inspection or merely have them "physically present."

McClellan added that if Beck is coy about submitting his records for committee scrutiny, he will be ordered to co-operate.

Meanwhile, arraignment of Teamsters vice president, James R. Hoffa, Beck's heir apparent, on charges of bribery, obstruction of justice and conspiracy to impede the rackets probe was set for March 29.

Lincoln School District Gets Federal Aid

Rep. Phil Weaver has received word that the West Lincoln school district will receive $2,324 in federal aid payments and Garfield School, $10,462, according to the Associated Press.

The federal aid payments are based upon the number of federally-connected children attending the schools.

Garfield School payments will be turned over to the Lincoln Public Schools because the school has been annexed into the Lincoln district since the requests were filed.

The AP report said that payments would be made "within a week or so" to the two districts. The Lincoln school district has already received $139,399 in federal funds for the present school year.

Additional funds may be allotted to school districts at a later date.

Optimist Officers Visit

National Optimist President Urges 'Help Live' Motto

A philosophy of "live and help live" was advanced for members of the Lincoln Optimist Club by International Optimist President C. Lease Bussard of Frederick, Md.

In his talk to the Optimists, Bussard pointed out the things done by civic organizations to help their friends and neighbors. He stressed the various programs of the Optimist Clubs and discussed the coming November program of youth appreciation.

This will be an Optimist recognition of youths who have done commendable things.

He also told the group of the success of Optimist International in helping secure Congressional passage of a stronger anti-narcotics law. The new law permits the death penalty for the sale of narcotics to youths, he said.

Rites Set For Arts Patron W. O. Thomas

Funeral services for William O. Thomas, 67, of 1724 L, former secretary-manager of the Lincoln Country Club and a patron of the arts, will be held 2 p.m. Saturday at Wadlows.

The Rev. William A. Cross will officiate. Burial will be in Wyuka.

Mr. Thomas, a native of Wales, died Thursday.

Before coming to Lincoln 60 years ago, he had traveled widely in Europe, and it was in Lucerne, Switzerland, that he met his future wife, Cora Fanny Newman of Lincoln, a niece of U.S. Senator J. M. Thurston.

Mr. Thomas died in 1930.

Government Service

Mr. Thomas held various positions with the city, state and federal government, including the army payroll department and the Indian service. For 12 years he served as gasoline and dairy inspector for the city of Lincoln. In 1918 he traveled to Hawaii on a mission for President Wilson.

In 1926 he became secretary-manager of the Lincoln Country Club, and later operated a laundry for several years.

For many years, Mr. Thomas provided a home for University of Nebraska students, where they had the benefit of his extensive library. He was a patron of music and a collector of European art objects.

Surviving are a nephew, Liske Humphrie of London, England, and a cousin, Mrs. Jane Coolidge of Sayville, Long Island, N. Y.

Explain Taxing On 'Built-In' Appliances

Are "built-in" kitchen stoves, refrigerators and dishwashers being taxed twice?

No, says Lancaster County Assessor Arthur Davis who explained these items are assessed as personal property.

Personal property has an accelerated depreciation scale in comparison to the depreciation factor applied to real estate.

If these built-in appliances were included in real property appraisals, the home-owner would be penalized in relation to other personal property owners, the assessor said.

Not Part Of Home

Davis said built-in stoves, refrigerators and dishwashers were not included as part of the home in the county-wide re-appraisal of real estate.

Assistant assessors are instructed to assess all stoves, refrigerators and dishwashers—even the so-called "built-ins"—on the personal property schedule.

In this way, the county assessor said, these items are fairly and equitably assessed and the proper depreciation rate applied.

Where There Is A Will

At the close of the day in Washington Wednesday, it was announced that a congressional economy drive had slashed $538 million from President Eisenhower's request to provide the revenue to operate nearly a score of small agencies.

The President himself was in Bermuda meeting with British Prime Minister Macmillan in an important conference arranged primarily to bring about better understanding between two old friends—the British and the American people. None of this battle over the budget is to be attributed rigidly to a part-time President. Mr.

Eisenhower, however, sent his money request to Congress, presumably in the belief that what was described as the largest peacetime budget in American history still was needed for the necessary operations of government.

It has not been clear what Congress has its sights fixed upon by way of reduction. The President had told it to cut if it could, and in recent days it has been cutting. We are quite sure that the more it cuts, the more the people of Nebraska will be pleased. In lopping off a half billion dollars from small agencies, it did not make Nebraskans mad. Actually they might have cheered.

Spring Came On

Spring came to Nebraska with little fanfare and something less than hoped-for shirt-sleeve weather. There were hints of rain or snow, and Nebraskans passed through the event without relief from the currently daily question whether to risk it out with or without a topcoat.

There was this about it. One can now count on the fingers of one hand the weeks that must elapse before the lilacs will bloom again surrounded by the whole pleasant green mantle of a new year.

It did bring one thought, sifted from the editorial comment of the Minneapolis Tribune. Published in a northern area where spring came on the wings of the heaviest snowfall of the winter the Tribune found one thing to complain about.

It saw a Minneapolis man standing hip deep in the snow scattering fertilizer on his lawn. The Tribune called it a foolhardy act, practically guaranteeing his lawn early and lush growth. The consequence, it said, is that this misguided suburbanite will about April 15 be out mowing his lawn—a revolting spectacle to all neighborhood husbands.

Much as the Tribune and so many men who dread the lawn mower year for real spring they are still reserving their enthusiasm pending hopes that someone will come out with a Little Marvel lawn inhibitor kit. Which is a reminder to all men in these parts. It is time to get the garden tools ready for the annual work season.

Bury The Hatchet

There was an example of nerves wearing thin (1) critical remarks of the Nebraska congressional delegation by the Nebraska Public Power System and (2) the caustic retort of Rep. A. L. Miller in Nebraska's thus far unsuccessful quest of a 230 kilovolt, federally constructed transmission line connecting the power sources of the Missouri Basin's Fort Randall dam and the Grand Island load center.

This mutually advantageous line—one that would provide the Missouri Basin with an admirable market during the season it could best use it, and at the same time cure a good deal of that which ails central Nebraska irrigation—has had singularly bad luck in Congress. Twice in as many sessions of Congress it has failed to get the $9 million appropriation. Now in this current third successive try its prospects are not much brighter.

Despite the NPPS criticism that the Nebraska delegation must share the blame, Rep. Miller stands on solid ground when he asserted he has been faithful in delivering his best for the project.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Does the tail wag the dog? Maybe, or maybe it's only an illusion. On the opening day of the week, the news columns were filled with the story to the effect that location of the atom plant producing electricity at Hallam hinged to some degree upon approval of a new contract for electricity for customers in Beatrice, a new contract with Consumers, the public power district which will build the new atom plant. Up spoke General Manager Ray Schacht to suggest that location of the plant was an engineering problem in no way determined by what the Beatrice electric board does in renewing its contract. In short, Schacht wanted it understood that the Consumers Public Power District was not turning on the heat in negotiations for a contract.

Then along came another version confirming the original story that there might be a change in the location of the proposed Hallam plant. Renewal of the Beatrice contract did make a difference, a district manager claimed, so we were back where we started, smothered in confusion. Fact is that Consumers has a little less than $100,000 invested in the Hallam site for the atomic plant. Fact is that it not only has that sizeable amount of dough invested but it has completed tests for wells and it has satisfied itself that other facilities vital to the operation are available at the site which has been the center of all discussion up until now. The whole thing forcibly brings home one point.

Another One Heard From

There are too many people doing the talking for these public power districts. That is one reason why their affairs seem to be so confused at this time. If one man—in Consumers, General Manager Schacht—undertook to clear information for the press both on policy and on progress programs, there would be less of this business of three steps forward and two steps back—less of this business of seeming confusion and at times, controversy.

Perhaps the answer to all of it is legislative action placing the public power program in Nebraska under a single board. Then we would have a single group of officers, a single group of directors, an integration in operating activities and, we are inclined to believe, far less quarreling over who should do this or who should do that. There is no need for individual rivalries—if individual rivalries exist—no need for this constant public airing of conflicting opinion such as has been taking place in recent months. Nebraska's public power program has been far more beneficial to the state than perhaps newspaper reports would indicate. We have cheap power in Nebraska, cheaper than in most states in the Union. We have good service.

One Big, Happy Family

In spite of that, the news columns have been filled off and on with reports of squabbles between various groups charged with the responsibility of administering the public power program.

Truly Serious

An unidentified voice, untraceable because it came over a dial phone, caused an eastern airline company to ground any number of its planes because of a bomb scare.

While hundreds of passengers encountered costly delays and experienced pointless anxiety, the airline did the only thing it could. It unloaded baggage and searched every inch of its planes.

No bomb was found. Patently the call was a hoax, an especially cruel and pointless one. We doubt that even the perpetrator got much of a bang out of it.

Such examples pose a serious problem, suggesting the worst sort of practical jokes. Even worse, the continuing hoax is one that fosters ultimate laxness and invites real disaster.

It is to be hoped that this first perpetrator somehow gets caught and if he is caught his punishment should be sufficient to disabuse all others of any idea that anonymous calls are lighthearted things.

Fading Past Was More Glorious

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower can look back on a long period of ups and downs in British relations as he confers with Prime Minister Macmillan in Bermuda. He can look back to the summer of 1944 when he lived in a pleasant headquarters camp outside London and spent long hours planning the invasion of Normandy. He can look back, too, to the crowds in the streets of London giving him a hero's welcome as he came back from the wars — Londoners standing for hours to get a glimpse of the man who ran the Nazis out of Europe — standing on the Guildhall balcony beside crusty, unsmiling Winston Churchill, promising that the United States and England would build for peace together, forever . . . and he can look back to pleasant trips to Scotland for grouse shooting after the war when he was stationed in Germany. The Scots even gave him part of a castle where he could relax any time he wanted — a gift for life from the grateful people of Scotland . . . and he can look back at the day when he marched with other cap-and-gown dignitaries to receive an honorary degree from ancient Oxford University; and to a myriad of other pleasant associations with a country grateful to a soldier.

Ike and Churchill — Came the day when Eisenhower was about to become President of the United States. He began to receive little chits from his old friend Winston Churchill — also transatlantic phone calls. Churchill had kept up a steady stream of correspondence across the Atlantic with Franklin Roosevelt. Winning the war became a sort of partnership, a joint enterprise between them. Never had the Anglo-American alliance been firmer . . . relations simmered a bit under Truman and Attlee. Prime Minister Attlee, a Laborite, didn't camp out in the White House with the Trumans the way Churchill had clumped up and down White House upstairs corridors in his bedroom slippers, his crimson and gold kimono half-draped around his nude and cherubic torso . . . So with Ike about to enter the White House, Churchill expected the cozy relations of war days to resume. He was so eager that he insisted on coming to see Ike two weeks before he was sworn in as President. The new president-elect was cordial, but the relationship was different from those halcyon hero days right after the war. Churchill was no longer giving suggestions to a military man. He was talking to a President of the United States. This time Ike was on his own . . . also the grand old man of England was pushing 80 and getting quite deaf. It was a strain to talk to him.

Broken Eden — There are other things Ike will be looking back on as he meets once again in Bermuda to consider the badly ruptured Anglo-American alliance. He can look back on the night of November 5 last year, one night before the election, when he telephoned another prime minister of England and told Sir Anthony Eden to get his troops out of Suez. Eden was sick at the time. Within two minutes he had called Premier Mollet in Paris and told him England was withdrawing. Mollet tried to argue, but Eden was a broken, beaten man.

DORIS FLESON

Beck-GOP Romance One-Sided Affair

WASHINGTON — For some curious reason, James H. (Big Red) Duff was not the effective United States senator his friends thought he could and would make. But he learned enough in his one term to give his new client, Teamster Dave Beck, sound advice.

As a result, Beck will appear voluntarily before the Senate Racketeering Committee and will bring his personal financial records with him. Senators, he has been well coached, get irritated when mere millionaires impugn their majesty.

Since his defeat last fall, Duff has been imparting the Eisenhower Republican look to a law shop here which has long prospered under the guidance of Democrat Joseph E. Davies. Now Duff is in Seattle, huddling with his client and preparing to shield him as much as possible from that Washington spotlight Beck once so ardently courted but in not quite the same colors.

Shortly after the Republicans returned to power, Beck came here laden, so he thought, with rich gifts — his huge union with its bulging treasury and his own unimpeachable fidelity to the GOP. At a cocktail party for the press, he was expansive and optimistic.

But the Eisenhower administration did not want labor brain-trusters or at least not the ones available to it. The President put Beck on the government commission to formulate the highway program, which was a logical enough appointment for the Teamster president but not very nourishing to Beck's ego.

Beck is not the brooding type. He was, however, a little puzzled. Nobody, but nobody, he contends, believes more firmly than he in the free enterprise system and has less truck with the Communists. He's a capitalist and proud of it, always thoroughly out of sympathy with his fellow-labor leaders who liked and supported the social planning of the New and Fair Deals.

The Beck definition of free enterprise should make a diverting show as it unfolds before Chairman McClellan. It has given him not only control of the nation's wheels but so much money that in 1952 he said his $50,000-a-year salary wasn't important because he didn't need it.

He obviously has been trying to forestall the committee to some extent by making public what he paid in income tax in recent years — though not the returns themselves. The committee has access to the returns and a real staff expert, Carmine Bellino, to parse them.

Beck has complained for some time that the committee was out to get him because he supported President Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956, a line that Duff, an Eisenhower man, probably will discourage, as will Republican members of the committee.

Some unkind senator might recall, though, Beck's explanation of why he put the Teamsters' building on Capitol Hill. "It's so we can watch Congress," he explained.

Macmillan Wants Firm Agreements

HAMILTON, Bermuda—One thing above all else Prime Minister Harold Macmillan is acutely aware of as he arrives to take part in this conference that will undertake to mend the breach in the partnership between Great Britain and the United States. That is the fate of his predecessor, Sir Anthony Eden.

Whether justly or not, the belief goes deep in England that Eden was the victim of the evasion, the procrastination and the uncertainties of American foreign policy. Those close to Macmillan say that he is determined not to suffer the same fate, even if this means that the present conference must be judged a failure.

The prime minister will, in other words, want more than "assurances" and "assumptions" that have left such a heritage of confusion and doubt in the Middle East since Israel's evacuation of Gaza and Aqaba.

It was only little more than a year ago that Eden, as prime minister, went to Washington for talks with President Eisenhower on the Middle and Far East. Supposedly they reached an agreement on a common approach to the principal problems, but as the British now point out, nothing happened.

Eden at that time informed Mr.

Eisenhower that Britain would insist on a revision of the embargo on trade with Communist China imposed at the direction of the United States. The President seemed to agree and a committee of British and American experts was to be named to work out such a revision after the high-level talks. But there was no response from Washington to British prodding and the embargo remains unchanged.

Now Macmillan will tell the President that this simply cannot occur again. He must go back to London with certain tangible achievements or the promise that they will come in the near future. To take less is to invite a repetition of the Eden tragedy. And a repetition could have even more serious consequences for the Anglo-American alliance than the breakup after Suez, which had as one of its consequences the downfall of Eden.

There might not be another chance. If Macmillan should fail, the right-wingers in his party would bring him down. The smoldering anti-Americanism in Britain would flame up, and then it might be too late to reconstruct the partnership that through the war and in the decade after the war served the West so well.

JESUS LOVED THEM

The Obsessed Boy

Because Scripture refers to this unfortunate boy as a "lunatic," some modern writers have asserted that the child was merely afflicted with epilepsy.

They argue that in Greek usage the term (meaning to be moon-struck) was commonly applied to that disease.

However, the New Testament account is unequivocal in stating that the boy was possessed by an unclean spirit:

"He rebuked the foul spirit, saying unto him, Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee, come out of him and enter no more into him."

"And the spirit cried and rent him sore, and came out of him: and he was as one dead; insomuch that many said, He is dead."

The child's father had previously brought the boy to Jesus' disciples to be healed, but they were unable to cure him. "I spake thy disciples that they should cast him out; and they could not."

From the description of the boy's symptoms, related by the father, we know that he was not only given to seizures in which he foamed at the mouth, but that he was deaf and dumb. During his attacks, he often endangered his own life by falling into the fire or into the river or lake.

Mark, in his Gospel, points out that it was the father's faith which made it possible for his son to be healed.

"Jesus said unto him, If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth."

And in response to Jesus, the boy's father cried out, with tears in his eyes:

"There came to him a certain man, kneeling down to him, and saying, Lord, have mercy on my son: for he is lunatick, and sore vexed . . ."

"Lord, I believe; help thou my unbelief."

The result of this father's humble, but powerful faith, was the expulsion of the evil that controlled his son.

Was such a cure merely evidence of the healer's art, or was it the will of God that banished demons?

For those who believe that Scripture is true, Jesus that day commanded a "foul spirit" to come out of a child, "and the child was cured from that very hour."

The People Speak

Editor's Note: Be brief. Limit letters to 200 words or less. Letters signed by a pen name or initials must be accompanied by writer's name. Letters represent only contributor's view.

LB 444

Grant, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: On Wednesday, March 27, at 2:00 o'clock at the State Capitol in Lincoln, Nebraskans will have an unusual opportunity to speak a word for democracy in our state government.

On that day LB 444, sponsored by Senators Hal Bridenbaugh, Tom Dooley and Leroy Bahensky, will be given a public hearing before the Judiciary Committee. This bill is vital. Its purpose: submission to the electors of amendments to the constitution of Nebraska relating to education; to abolish the office of commissioner of education, the election of such person, and the term of office thereof.

Information from authoritative sources has stated that almost every state commission is in difficulties. Their members have exceeded their authority, and at least one has demanded that any rulings they make shall carry the force and effect of law.

This is government by decree! It would bypass every safety precaution set up in our state constitution. It would involve no action on their rulings by the State Legislature, no public hearing, no vote by the elected representatives of the people of our state. Only a ruling by the commission, and a new law goes on the books. If one commission has this power, all could have.

One more chip off the cornerstone of democracy, or a widening crack in its very foundations? These senators who would protect our heritage of freedom need support. We should make it our business to attend this public hearing and help decide if Nebraska is to have government of the people, by the people, and for the people, which spells democracy—or government of the commissions, by the bureaus, and for big government.

Street Vacating

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: On reading a small article on zoning ordinances, with the aid of a magnifying glass I came across the following: "Other ordinances introduced: Vacation of 9th south of Hill."

Surely this does not mean that 9th Street is to be closed. If it does, how does the City Council expect residents to reach their homes? Also, in case of a fire, how would fire trucks get to the fire without going blocks out of the way, thus losing much time?

This ordinance was probably introduced because of the one-way street situation which will go into effect in the near future and which will cut through Van Dorn Park. Therefore, by closing 9th Street, it could become part of the park taking the place of the land used for the highway.

I am sure that 9th Street would never be made part of the park, as the area west of 9th Street, already part of the park, is never used.

Surely the person introducing this ordinance gave little thought or consideration to the property owners of South 9th.

RESIDENT
Editor's note: Our apologies for not being more specific. The ordinance in question would vacate only a small triangular piece of 9th measuring 9.07 feet at its widest point, the southeast corner of 9th and Hill. The vacated strip narrows down to a point 49.45 feet south of Hill. Ninth south of Hill will remain open and a 110.93 right-of-way retained by the city.

The Farmer's Lot
Nebraska City, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln

Star: In reply to "Interested Taxpayer" who had a letter in this column on March 12 — he wonders why "Tax Tired" didn't save his dimes in his early days and buy a farm. First, we want to say that we have saved our dimes. Possibly today we could pay cash for a farm—providing, of course, that we could outbid all those "well-heeled" farmers who seem always willing to pay any price in order to increase their land holdings. We certainly don't begrudge a farmer his land, however he got it.

The point we tried to make is that we personally are sick and tired of being taxed for all sorts of farm relief while the farmer keeps title to his holdings. We can't see why a farmer should be given tax money to fight erosion on his own land, or for stubble-mulching and strip-cropping practices, whatever they are.

We assume there are all types of such agricultural "boondoggling" paid out of the pockets of the rest of us. The news columns of March 9 stated that the Agriculture Department, report showed that Nebraska farmers had been paid $42,670,000 in direct subsidy payments last year. Kansas got $16,869,000—South Dakota, $22,443,000 — Iowa, $65,621,000 — while little old Texas got only $54,938,000. See what we mean!

During World War II there were price controls on everything; even labor was kept in its place. Only the farmer was allowed full swing with price supports propping him up, if our memory hasn't failed us. And then those lush postwar crop years, with banks bulging—why can't the farmer take a year or two of drought?

This thing of selling all the crops at high subsidy prices, then squawking to buy them back cheaply to feed stock is surely one way of having your cake and eating it, too. Back there, a Republican Congress lead by Nebraska's own Sen. Wherry scrapped price controls over Truman's veto, as we recall it. It's been a case of "dog eat dog" ever since. And free enterprise was to take care of everything!

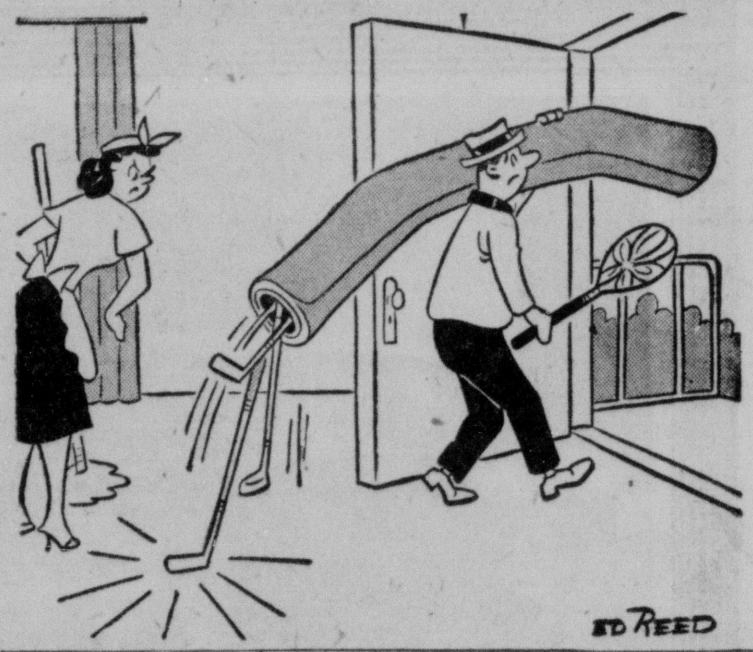

Today we see "free-loaders" and specialized groups clamoring day and night. Anything and everything goes, just so the hide is taken off the other fellow's back. Some have even sunk so low that they're gunning for Grandpa's old age assistance check, so it seems . . .

We still drive a pretty good 12-year-old car, still sit on our 35-year-old sofa — from choice! When we retire in a few years, we can take care of ourselves very well, all earned by our own hard work and standing on our own feet. We think it's high time for the farmers to paddle their own canoe.

NEW TAX PROPOSAL: SALES-INCOME 'TRIAL'

... For Four Years; Then Popular Vote

Sen. Marvin Lautenschlager Thursday proposed a four-year trial of a sales-income tax, followed by a vote of the people to decide whether it should be continued.

Putting the issue to a popular vote before it has had a trial would result in the same confusions and distortions that attended the ten-mile tax campaign last year, he said.

The Grand Island legislator said he will offer his proposals as an amendment to LB 134, which combines a two per cent sales tax with an income tax equivalent to about 10 per cent of a person's federal income tax.

Next Week

That measure, introduced by senators Norman Otto, LeRoy Bahensky and August Wagner, comes up for floor debate in the Legislature next Wednesday.

The bill calls for the tax to become effective next Jan. 1 and Lautenschlager's proposed amendment would specify that it shall expire with the 1962 general election.

The 1961 Legislature would have to decide whether the issue should be put to a popular vote in 1962.

Under Lautenschlager's plan, candidates for the 1961 Legislature would be expected to take a stand on whether the matter should be decided by the people or whether the Legislature itself should extend the tax or let it die.

Lautenschlager said he would support a move to put extension of the tax on the 1962 ballot, whether or not he is a member of the Legislature then.

He said he checked with the attorney general and was told there is no way to amend the bill to make a 1962 popular vote binding at this stage.

But, he said, he was told the time limit on the bill is in order.

Statehouse attorneys expressed some doubt whether the legislature has authority to refer a legislative proposal such as LB 135 to a vote of the people.

The Legislature, however, can submit proposed constitutional amendments to a popular vote. And citizens, by petition, can put legislative proposals on the ballot.

STAN DELAPLANE'S

POSTCARD

Some months ago I read that Los Angeles was increasing at the rate of 400 souls a day and was bound to become the biggest city in the world.

"Bigger than any city in the world," said the paper. "If this keeps up and why shouldn't it?" True I had to go to Los Angeles to get a paper and read it. San Francisco papers simply won't print news like this.

Texas papers are too busy printing how big Texas is. I mentioned in El Paso that Los Angeles now had 4,000,000 people. "But how many of them have oil leases?" they said.

I mentioned it once in New York. "That's near Hollywood, isn't it?" they said at Toot Shor's. "Guy I know went out there once."

Well, this is neither here nor thataway. What occurs to me is that Phoenix is becoming an awfully big city. It might make Los Angeles mighty sick if it keeps up. And why shouldn't it?

Phoenix has spread so far the natives can hardly see the Westward Ho on a clear day. And the other day, I drove out with Mr. Reg Manning to see his new desert domicile and find how folks are living thisaway and thataway.

"Funny thing is all the rich people used to build right on the slopes of Camelback mountain," said Mr. Manning. "They can't see the mountain for the rocks, you might say."

"Today we build way off from the mountain. Where we can see it."

Mr. Manning is an editorial cartoonist. A Pulitzer prize cartoonist.

We drove out past Camelback. The desert is flat as a pancake. The air was clear and we could see the houses of the unlucky, short-sighted rich. Stacked against the mountain where you can't see anything but closeup mountain.

The new Phoenix builder backs away for a long shot at the mountain. When he is far enough away that the earth begins to curve, he lays a concrete block among the saguaro cactus and builds his nest.

Phoenix nesters do not build up. There is such a quantity of desert they just let the house ramble until it stops.

"Where do you think Phoenix will end?" I asked.

"Heaven knows," he said, scanning the far reaches. "I think we are just about the right distance." He sounded a little worried. I think I shook him up somewhat.

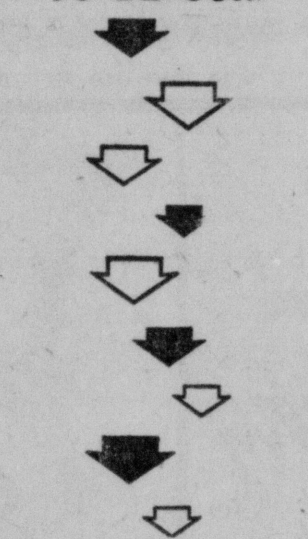

It is obvious to anyone looking over the typography that Phoenix can go on and on and on and on.

Los Angeles on the other hand is throttled by the Tehachapis, by the Pacific Ocean and by San Diego in the south. The future biggest city in the world has some definite limits.

There will be room, I guess, for the projected 10,000,000 people. But just.

Local Hospitals Get 8 Interns Next Year

Only Lincoln General Has None For '57

Lincoln hospitals have been allotted a total of eight interns for the term beginning July 1.

Four University of Nebraska College of Medicine students graduating in June will intern at Bryan Memorial Hospital "completely filling the hospital's quota," according to Gene Edwards, administrator.

The new interns are Jack E. Kaufmann of Omaha, Y. Scott More of Wood River, Ralph E. Paul of Beatrice and Irving E. Weston of Gibbon. Bryan now has three doctors who complete their internship June 30.

Four interns and two resident surgeons will come to St. Elizabeth Hospital in July, according to Donald Duncan, assistant administrator.

National Program

The placements are made through a national matching program of student preferences and hospital needs administered by the American Medical Association and several other medical groups.

New interns at St. Elizabeth, all from Creighton University in Omaha, are William R. Meyer of Dubuque, Ia., Frederic M. Ashlar of Omaha, Thomas M. Mirich of Culver City, Calif. and John F. Quinn of Chicago, Ill.

New surgical residents at St. Elizabeth are Dr. James L. Flood of Omaha and Dr. Herman W. Hiesterman of Quinter, Kan., who were assigned through the Creighton Medical Center residency program.

2 Less Than Asked

Duncan reported that St. Elizabeth Hospital had applied for six interns, and received only four. The hospital now has one intern and four resident doctors.

Administrator Herbert Anderson of Lincoln General Hospital reported that no new interns have been assigned to the hospital although Lincoln General is on the approved listing of the AMA Council on Medical Education for four internships. The administrator said the more than 5,000 AMA-approved hospital intern vacancies were not filled this year.

Lincoln General now has three doctor interns who will complete their terms at the end of June.

Belmont Church To Host State Baptist Official

Dr. Arthur M. Clarke, executive secretary of the Nebraska Baptist State Convention, will be the guest speaker Sunday at 11 p.m. at the newly organized Belmont Baptist Church.

The newly formed congregation is meeting presently in the Belmont Community Center, 12th and Judson.

Bohlen Okayed

MANILA (AP) — The Philippine government has accepted the nomination of Charles E. Bohlen as U.S. ambassador, President Carlos P. Garcia announced.

Bohlen, now ambassador to Russia, succeeds Albert Nufer, who died last November.

Bohlen's arrival date in Manila has not been set.

Louis Armstrong Brings Show To Lincoln Tonight

Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong, prominent American jazz musician, and his All-Stars will appear Friday at Lincoln's new Pershing Municipal Auditorium.

Armstrong, who has recently returned from a world-wide tour, will bring the same musicians who accompanied him on the tour — Edmond Hall on the clarinet, Trummy Young on the trombone and Bill Kyle on the piano. Armstrong will play the trumpet and sing in his unique style.

A frequent television performer, Armstrong was recently featured in the Bing Crosby-Grace Kelly movie, "High Society."

Baptist Officials To Speak Here

Three representatives of the Nebraska Baptist State Convention will speak Sunday to the Capitol Association meeting to be held at the First Baptist Church.

Messages will be given by the Rev. Rollin Wildin, director of Christian education; the Rev. Roy E. Jones, director of town and country work; and Dr. Arthur Clarke, executive secretary.

Convention begins at 2:30 p.m. Closing message will be delivered by Miss Beatrice Ericson, American Baptist missionary to India.

'ENGAGEMENT PERIOD IMPORTANT AS THE FINAL TEST'—COUNSELORS

The engagement period as a link of communication between single and married life was stressed Thursday evening in the third of a series of four Marriage Institute Panels sponsored by the YWCA.

Discussion ranged from the advisable length of the engagement period to the importance of the sex relationship between engaged couples, but centered primarily about the importance of this premarital period as a "final test" and a necessary transition from the "I" to the "we" stage.

The Rev. Thomas Dick, pastor of the First Plymouth Congregational Church, told the gathering of about 25 persons that the engagement period is one of approaching permanency between couples, solving practical problems and becoming "intimate enough to

Marilyn Won't Affirm Or Deny Baby Reports

NEW YORK (AP) — Marilyn Monroe refused Thursday to confirm or deny printed reports that she is expecting a child. She said such matters are private.

The blonde actress, wife of playwright Arthur Miller, said through a spokesman:

"I have nothing to say at this time. I'm sure that everyone will agree that some things are private matters. I just feel that this is one of them."

Both she and her husband are ill with virus. They have declined to see the press directly.

A story out of Hollywood by Sheilah Graham in the New York Daily Mirror quoted "brass" at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio as saying Miss Monroe had turned down the role of Grushenka in "The Brothers Karamazov" because she is expecting a baby.

Representatives of Miss Monroe said she "is available for work if the proper vehicle comes along."

They said, however, her contractual arrangements call for her to make her next picture with 20th Century-Fox. They quoted her as saying she still would like to play "Grushenka."

discover one another's virtues and faults."

Final Testing Ground

Engaged couples should find this period valuable as a final testing ground, Mrs. M. C. Leonard, University of Nebraska instructor in marriage relations, said.

She pointed out that the longer a couple has gone together before marriage, the more successful the marriage usually turns out to be.

Panel Moderator Harold Abel, University of Nebraska professor of child development, asserted the sexual relationship of the engagement period is but a small part of the emotional relationship, which he cited as the period's most important element.

Common Humor

The Rev. Mr. Dick asserted that not only must a couple have a great deal of empathy into each other's feelings, but must also have a common sense of humor.

Discussion of recreation, children, money and in-laws should be done in considerable detail, Mrs. Leonard said, during the engagement period.

Minimum time agreed upon by the panelists for the engagement period was six months.

Nanette To Wed

NEW YORK (AP)—Television actress Nanette Fabray announced her engagement to Randal MacDougall, a Hollywood writer and director. No date was set for the wedding.

Miss Fabray, 34, previously was married to David Tebet, an NBC program executive. MacDougall, 42, recently was divorced from his first wife.

Airman Hurt In NAS Crash Flown Here

Charles Edward Hart, air controller first class injured in the crash of a Lincoln Naval Air Station plane Sunday near Pittsburgh, Pa., was resting quietly at home Thursday evening.

He was returned to Lincoln from the South Side Hospital in Pittsburgh in an NAS plane, arriving about 6:25 p.m.

Mrs. Hart, who called her husband a "pretty lucky fella," said he was "pretty well banged up," but was resting well. She said Hart would visit a doctor Friday, adding "we will know more about his condition then."

Hart suffered a broken hand and cheek bone and several bad cuts, she said, and was fairly tired from the air trip to Lincoln.

Meanwhile, NAS authorities said investigation was still continuing Thursday into the cause of another NAS plane crash, the F9F-6 Cougar jet which crashed near Garland Friday.

Paris Paper Says France To Aid Israel If Hostilities Erupt

PARIS (AP) — A Paris leftist paper reported Thursday France will provide air cover for Israel if hostilities break out again between Israel and Egypt.

The report was neither denied nor confirmed by French officials in Paris.

The French Embassy in Washington, commenting on whether the United States had been told of it, said the report was not true.

A chain reaction of discussion as to whether it was true or not spread over the world in the midst of top level meetings in Bermuda and Cairo on the Middle East crises.

Bermuda

French officials apparently are reluctant to assert themselves on the subject while President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan are meeting at Bermuda and U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold is having delicate negotiations with President Nasser in Cairo.

France-Observateur first published the report. It said French fighter pilots based at Dijon, France, had been alerted to move to Cyprus in case they were wanted to help Israeli operations.

Mrs. Golda Meir, Israel's foreign minister, conferred with foreign minister Christian Pineau for 45 minutes. She told newsmen their talk did not touch on further French military aid to Israel.

Informed

France-Observateur said the U.S. charge d'affaires in Paris, Charles Yost, was summoned last Friday by Defense Minister Maurice Bourges-Maunoury and informed that France intends to provide aerial cover for the Israelis if hostilities are resumed.

Mrs. Meir told newsmen she and Pineau agreed that both Israel and Egypt should proclaim and observe a policy of "non-belligerency" in the Middle East.

She said it is obvious that a state of belligerency is against the U.N. Charter.

The minister asserted that the "first duty" of U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold must be to get such a statement renouncing belligerency from Egyptian President Nasser.

Compromise

WASHINGTON (INS) — Administration officials said the U.S. is prepared to compromise with Egypt on temporary operation of the Suez Canal, but insists that a neutral agency collect tolls instead of Egypt.

Reports from Cairo indicate Egypt is willing also to work out a compromise agreement on canal operations with United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold during discussions now under way there.

Withdraw

CAIRO (AP) — U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold is taking the line that Israel will have to withdraw from a little triangle in the Negeb Desert to establish legal right to send ships through the Suez Canal.

This was reported by informed diplomats as Hammarskjold met with President Nasser.

Egyptian President Nasser to explore the tangle of Middle East issues. They include such varied problems as the Gaza Strip, Suez and the Gulf of Aqaba that have become snarled in the same ball of twine.

Because one topic almost always leads to the others, they began their talks at Nasser's house without an agenda.

Before they met, Hammarskjold talked with Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi for three hours.

Troops Clash

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel said its troops clashed with Arab forces on the frontiers of both Syria and Jordan.

An army headquarters spokesman said the latest incident in a series of Israeli border clashes this week was a one-hour gun battle between Israel and Jordan forces on the northern frontier.

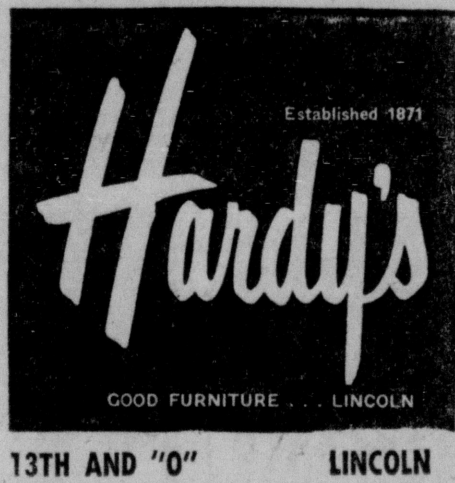

He said an Israeli patrol intercepted "a unit of Jordan Legionnaires while entering Israeli territory northeast of Megiddo."

The spokesman said that as the Israeli patrol approached the scene, automatic weapons and rifle fire opened up from Jordan positions across the frontier.

Under this cover, the Jordanian Legionnaires escaped back into Jordan the spokesman declared.

Public Health Chief Says Cutbacks Exhausted Salk Polio Vaccine Stocks

WASHINGTON (INS) — The head of the U.S. Public Health Service testified Thursday that production cutbacks have exhausted manufacturers' stocks of Salk polio vaccine.

Surgeon General Leroy F. Burney admitted before a House subcommittee that he knew last fall of the production slowdown, but said that demand had fallen off and "we did not disagree."

The surgeon general added: "It would have been difficult, if not impossible, to forecast the current shortage."

Burney said the slowdown in production was the result of a "miscalculation in which we joined" and added that he was "very much flabbergasted" when he learned supplies have been exhausted.

The public health official, describing the situation as a temporary "crisis," urged postponement of plans to encourage inoculation of young adults in the 20-29 age group. He said priority should be given to youngsters under 20 and expectant mothers.

Burney was reminded by subcommittee chairman L. H. Fountain (D-N.C.) of his statement March 6 that vaccine supplies were plentiful. He replied that there was a sudden step-up in demand around mid-February.

On Jan. 15, he testified, manufacturers had on hand about 15 million doses of unused vaccine, but in the following three weeks they sold out completely. Since then, he said, 10 million, 500 thousand doses of new supplies have been sold, leaving manufacturers with virtually no inventory.

Physicians say the first of the three-shot series must be taken before April 15 in order to provide immunity by the time the epidemic season arrives.

The veteran public health officer said that as of March 15, only about 11 million 500 thousand men, women and children have had the full recommended course of these Salk shots. There are about 108 million persons in the priority age group.

Highway Dept. Measure Brings Number Of Bills Near Record

Legislative Bill 594 was introduced Thursday, bringing the total for this session just one short of the all-time high set by the 1953 State Legislature.

The measure, proposed by the Government Committee at Gov. Anderson's request, would separate the motor vehicles division from the State Department of Roads and Irrigation.

Another Highway Department measure, LB 442, to make the irrigation division a separate department, already has crossed its first floor hurdle on the way to final passage.

$7,000 Salary

LB 594 specifies a salary of $7,000 a year for the director of the department of motor vehicles. Present salary of the director of that division, $6,500 is not set by statute.

In other action Thursday, the Legislature advanced an amended LB 251 exempting volunteer firemen from payment of poll taxes after 10 years of service.

Sen. Fay Wood of Seward, introduced, explained that a 1955 bill removing firemen's exemption from jury duty after five years inadvertently removed their exemption from poll tax payments also.

He got the bill amended to restore the five-year exemption for firemen who had joined earlier under the assumption that they would be exempt from poll taxes after five years.

Other bills advanced from general file:

LB 477, introduced by Sen. William

Moulton, making a technical correction in a section of the election laws.

LB 227, by Senators Charles Tyndk, George Syas and William Moulton, all of Omaha, establishing a state athletics commission, appointed by the governor, and transferring jurisdiction over sporting events from the health department to the commission. An amendment setting a $4,000 maximum on the commissioner's annual salary was approved.

Ban On Outside Jobs

NEW YORK (AP) — The fire department has forbidden firemen who entered the service since last October to hold outside jobs — a widespread practice. The move apparently was designed to cut down the greater attractiveness of the fire department compared to the police department. Policemen have long been barred from holding outside jobs.

Legislators Plan Denver Trip To Study Weather Control

Members of the Miscellaneous Subjects Committee, plan to fly to Denver Friday to inspect equipment and methods of one of the nation's leading weather modification firms.

The committee already has held a public hearing on both measures

One, LB 539, would authorize creation of weather control districts financed by a tax levy of up to one mill. The other, LB 540, would create a weather control commission under the State Department of Agriculture and provide for licensing of persons engaged in artificial weather modification.

Making the Denver trip will be Senators Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth, John Aufenkamp of Julian, John Donner of Elgin, David Tews of Norfolk, LeRoy Bahensky of Palmer, D. J. Cole of Merriman and J. W. Burbach of Crofton.

Burbach, chief introducer of the two bills, arranged the trip. The senators also plan to look in on the Colorado Legislature before returning Saturday.

Tourists Wanted

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP) — The famous King David Hotel, closed last November during Israeli-Egyptian hostilities, has reopened with a six-month loan from the government and forgiveness of city taxes for the same period. It is hoping the lifting of the U.S. ban on Middle East travel will bring a flood of tourists to the Holy Land.

Red Editor Flees

STOCKHOLM (INS) — An editor of Communist Poland's largest daily newspaper, the Express Wiczyorny of Warsaw, said he has asked Sweden for political asylum. Mieczyslaw Ender, 35, economics editor, said he fled to Sweden three weeks ago with his wife because he feels Poland's condition will worsen.

MILLER CALLS
POWER AD
'MALICIOUS'

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Sinister and malicious," Rep. Miller (R-Neb.) said Thursday of a Nebraska Public Power System advertisement dealing with a proposed 230-kilovolt power line in the state.

Miller said the circular "points the finger at the Nebraska delegation" in Congress for lack of an appropriation for construction of the line.

In a letter to D. J. DeBoer, executive director of the NPPS, Miller said the "Nebraska delegation, at least this member, has always been in there leading the parade" for an appropriation.

No Funds
The project, estimated to cost nine million dollars, was approved by Congress two years ago but no appropriations have been voted for starting it.

The circular said "the Ft. Randall to Grand Island transmission line proposal has become a political football kicked around in Washington while Nebraska farmers and ranchers and Nebraska business are hurting plenty."

Miller said he had urged the Bureau of the Budget and the secretary of Interior to recommend an appropriation for the project in a supplemental bill. The Budget Bureau turned down the request.

'Do It Yourself'
Miller suggested that if an appropriation is denied again this year, the NPPS "borrow the money from the REA in Washington and build the line yourselves. There should be no difficulty in getting such a loan."

Rep. Miller, in his letter, said DeBoer's opposition to the proposal in 1954 "prevented a start on the project."

An NPPS spokesman in Columbus, Neb., said the 1954 opposition to which Miller referred dealt with another project the proposed substitution of a 230 kv line for the 115 kv line from Gavins Point Dam to Belden, Neb., which has subsequently been built.

The advertisement to which Miller referred appeared in the Nebraska Farmer and NPPS said it had been placed in some newspapers by rural power districts. The advertisement was sponsored by NPPS and 27 rural power districts.

DeBoer 'Surprised'
At Denver, DeBoer, who arrived to confer with federal Reclamation Bureau officials, said: "I'm surprised that Dr. Miller released his letter before getting a reply from me."

"We are not trying to point any finger at the Nebraska delegation," DeBoer said.

He said backers of the project realize "Dr. Miller has done a lot of work on it and we give him full credit for that."

Denying he ever has opposed the Ft. Randall-to-Grand Island project, he said:

"I have always been for this project, because Grand Island is where the power is needed. What I have opposed is other proposed projects to carry power where it wasn't needed so imperatively."

Senate Passes 251-Page Overhaul On Federal Banking Laws

WASHINGTON (U)—The Senate late Thursday passed and sent to the House a 251-page bill overhauling and streamlining the federal banking laws.

Passage of the measure, probably the largest to be considered by Congress this session, came on a voice vote after it had been debated by the Senate parts of two weeks. Sen. Robertson (D-Va.) was the chief author.

The bill, known as the Financial Institutions Act of 1957, was described by its sponsors as ranking with the National Bank Act of 1864, the Federal Reserve Act of 1913, and the Banking Acts of 1933 and 1935.

A major purpose of the measure is to codify all present laws on banking and federal savings and loan associations and to remove obsolete provisions.

However, the bill also contains a number of important substantive provisions.

New Powers

Some of these would:

Give federal regulatory agencies new powers to control bank mergers.

Make cumulative voting by stockholders for national banks permissive instead of mandatory.

Permit national banks to issue preferred stock.

Prohibit federal savings and loan associations from opening new branches in 24 states.

Broaden powers of national banks to make construction loans and certain types of business loans.

Limit state powers to license and examine national banks.

Set up more stringent control over dividend payments by national banks.

Simplify and make more uniform bank reporting requirements.

Take away the rarely used power of federal reserve banks to make commercial and industrial loans.

Option Plans

Permit national banks to establish stock option plans for officers and employees.

The bill also carries a number of restrictive provisions inspired by the Orville Hodge case in Illinois investigated by the Senate Banking Committee last fall.

Hodge, former Illinois state auditor, now is serving federal and state prison terms on embezzlement and other charges.

These provisions would:

Make it easier for federal banking agencies to remove bank officers and directors who have engaged in unsound practices.

FDIC Rules

Shorten the period for compelling compliance with Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) regulations.

Prevent delays in FDIC payments to depositors of a closed bank.

Direct federal supervisory agencies to establish ground rules governing the hiring of their employees by banks.

Require disclosure of true ownership of stock in federally insured banks where the stockholders own 5 per cent or more of the stock.

Ban political gifts by bank officers or employees to public officials who supervise banks or direct the deposit of public funds in banks.

The latter provision was written in on the floor Tuesday in an amendment sponsored by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark).

Nathan Grossman was named chairman of the U.S.O. Thursday at the annual meeting of the U.S.O. council, with President Louis Finkelstein presiding.

Other new officers are Norma Carpenter, vice chairman; Ben Kniffin, secretary, and Ed Becker, treasurer.

Mrs. Leota Lowe, center director, reported on 1956 activities at the meeting. She said, the year's attendance reached 38,605. Home hospitality was provided to 131 airmen, and 281 community groups participated in U.S.O. activities.

The center served 31,718 cups of coffee during 1956 and distributed 587 pieces of religious literature.

Junior hostesses served a total of 987 hours, and senior hostesses served 3,328 hours, Mrs. Lowe reported.

Four Circus Shows Set For Saturday

Gil Gray Shrine Circus officials announced four shows have been scheduled Saturday because of the heavy advance ticket sale. Shows will be at 10 a.m., and 1, 3 and 8:15 p.m.

Attendance had reached 16,000 for the first three days of the week's performances at the State Fair grounds 4-H Auditorium, slightly above the figure last year.

The Saturday schedule will be the first time the Shrine circus has given four shows in one day in Lincoln. Normally, the group performs twice on Saturday.

Circus performers earlier entertained children at the Orthopedic Hospital.

BERTRAND AREA OKAYS $430,000 SCHOOL ISSUE

Lincoln Star Special

BERTRAND, Neb.—Voters here passed a $430,000 school bond issue Thursday night by a vote of 385-281.

Voters of District 54 of Phelps County and District 63 of Gosper County voted on the proposal which was previously defeated in an election Jan. 31 by 283 for and 296 against.

The money will be used for a new school, auditorium, junior high and for partial aid for a new elementary school.

The Board of Education had requested the second election because of "extreme need for a new building."

A WEDDING IN JUNE

MISS GRETCHEN GLADSTONE

Announcement is made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Ronald M. Gladstone of Nebraska City, of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Gretchen, to Franklin Ross of Alameda, Calif.

The wedding will be an event of June.

Miss Gladstone, the granddaughter of Mrs. Walter A. Wesel of Nebraska City, and Mrs. Victor Gladstone of Omaha, is a former student at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, honorary for freshmen women. She will be graduated in June from Mills College, Oakland, Calif.

Mr. Ross attended Stockton Junior College, and completed his work at the University of California at Berkeley where he is a member of Delta Chi fraternity.

To Entertain Dinner-Club

Members of the WORCAAS dinner club will meet Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Owens. Following a 6:30 o'clock dinner, the evening hours will be spent with cards.

Entertains Club Members

Mrs. Ralph Walker was hostess to the members of the Northeast Nabor's Extension Club when the lesson, "Laundry Tricks" was a highlight of the program.

A review of the book, "Road Inland" Crowell, was given by Mrs. Fred Hromas, reading leader, and a report on, "Do You Include Essentials in Your Family's Daily Meal", was given by Mrs. Frank Cramer. Mrs. William McVey, civil defense leader, also spoke to the group.

Mrs. John Morford presided at the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Vernon Chevront. Mrs. Don Hromas was a guest of the club, and assisting hostess was Mrs. William McVey.

Mrs. W. F. Burcham was hostess to the members of the Look-out Extension Club last Tuesday afternoon when the lesson on laundry tricks was given by Mrs. William Ludwig and Mrs. Floyd Robertson.

Guests of the club were Mrs. Lawrence Bohl and Mrs. Carl Johnson.

The next meeting of the club will be held April 16 at the home of Mrs. Harley Slader, Rt. 5.

Has Meeting

Executive board members of Meadowlane PTA met Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Robison. Plans for the annual election of officers and program of the April meeting were discussed.

Guest of the board was Mrs. Gene Sack, fifth grade teacher.

SPRING HOLIDAYS ARE HERE

THOUGHT it was about time we began canvassing the away-at-school crowd to see if and when they would be coming home for the spring holiday. We couldn't have timed the survey better as far as Miss Ann Stebbins is concerned—she is already in town. Miss Stebbins, who is attending Smith College, arrived in the wee small hours of Thursday morning and will be here until April 3.

We doubt if Miss Stebbins spends too much time in a leisure fashion—Her calendar already is pretty well filled with "musts"—such as a passport picture shopping for clothes and countless other things that must be done before the summer which she plans to spend in Europe.

THEN we learned that Miss Nancy Aitken, a senior at Wellesley College this year, will be arriving on Saturday, March 30, to spend her spring vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs.

William I. Aitken, and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor Greer.

THE dawn brought news of parties for popular brides-to-be—and among them is Miss Barbara Stephens whose marriage to Jerry Solomon will take place in May.

A week from today, March 29, Miss Stephens will be complimented by Mrs. William Hill and Mrs. Reuben Walt when they entertain at luncheon at Hotel Cornhusker. The guest list of 14 will include members of the family who will present the soon-to-be bride with a miscellaneous shower.

NEXT Tuesday afternoon when members of Girl Scout Troop 85, and their mothers are coffee hostesses at the home of Mrs. George Binger, it will be to honor Miss Joyce Dubinsky whose marriage to James Rodenberg will be solemnized on April 14. The guests have been invited for the hours of 3:30 o'clock and 5 o'clock, and among the guests will be Mrs. Dalton Dallicott Troop leader, and the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Irwin Dubinsky, assistant leader.

ON THE following day—Wednesday, March 27, Miss Dubinsky and Miss Hanna Rosenberg, who has a summer date for her marriage to David Gradwohl, will share honors at a pre-nuptial courtesy for which Mrs. David Nefsky will be hostess. Mrs. Nefsky has invited a small group of guests for luncheon at her home.

A FLASH from the nursery at Lincoln General Hospital tells us that Richard Leon Spangler, III, arrived there on Thursday, March 21. The baby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Spanggler, Jr., and his mother is the former Bobbie Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Russell—and Kappa Kappa Gamma at Nebraska. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Spangler are the paternal grandparents.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

The names Kessler Heights and South Hills must have some special significance, for they are mentioned and we immediately think of friendly neighbors who always are scouting for entertainment and fun. Let's see, before we begin this morning's news we thought of coffee and bridge; and sure enough, news of such events were disclosed among the other items of interest from this morning's suburb.

Word comes from Mrs. Jack Beers this week that she and Mr. Beers spent a week vacationing in Excelsior Springs and in Kansas City, Mo. Upon returning to their Kessler Heights' home on Friday, Mrs. Beers had just enough time to settle in her home before proceeding to plan a birthday party for Miss Seven-Year-Old Patti Jo Beers. Patti's Saturday afternoon guests were Debbie Macaluso, Leanne Beers, Pam Barowski, Amy Sue Boehmer, Jan Wallen and Sally Weart. Assisting Mrs. Beers with the entertainment and serving were Patti's twin cousins, Billie and Lonnie Smith.

Arriving from Colorado Springs, Colo. on Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Abe Marylander. Mr. and Mrs. Marylander enjoyed a four-day's visit with their son-in-law and daughter,

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kushner and Martin James.

And spending a few-day's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Blackburn and Charlene were Mrs. Blackburn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Fuller. The Fullers returned to their home in Indianapolis, Ind. last Sunday.

A newly organized bridge club in Kessler Heights will hold its fourth meeting on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Frazer. Included in the bridge eightsome, in addition to Mrs. Frazer are Mrs. Vernon Todd, Mrs. Bruce Mills, Mrs. Daniel Schmeeman, Mrs. Robert Buckley, Mrs. Harry Christianson, Mrs. Theodore Beams and Mrs. Fred Sherman.

SOUTH HILLS

Week end guests in South Hills were Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Yost and daughter Linda of Elwood. The Yost threesome were visitors of Mrs. Yost's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Powell.

Home Wednesday evening after a week's vacation in Denver, Colo. were Mrs. Donald Hoch, and her children, Randy, Vickie, Dana and Danny. They were the guests of Mrs. Hoch's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Climpion.

Spring holidays seem to be the trend out in the suburb. Heard that Maj and Mrs. Matthew Perry are visiting friends and relatives in Denver, Colo. this week. The Perrys will return home on Friday evening.

It is again time to roll out the old red carpet and say welcome to the new neighbors out in South Hills. It was on Monday, March 4, when Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Cottingham and their children, Kim and Diane moved into their home on 1900 Brower Road. The Cottinghams recently resided at 250 So. 22nd St.

We're quite sure that Mrs. Fred Cull wasn't expecting such a surprise when she was invited to spend an informal evening on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. W. L. Ball. At any rate, it turned out to be a very pleasant surprise, for the hostess had planned a pink and blue shower for Mrs. Cull. Included in the guests besides Mrs. Cull were Mrs. M. Skappel, Mrs. Glenn Harms, Mrs. Leo Dunkle, Mrs. Robert Love, Mrs. W. E. Berkland, Mrs. Ronald Stewart and Mrs. Robert Schneck.

LUNCHEON GUESTS

Members of the Lincoln Optimists and Opti-Mrs. Clubs met Thursday noon for luncheon at the Hotel Cornhusker to honor the president of the international organization, C. Lease Bussard, and Mrs. Bussard, of Frederick, Md., and the district governor, Alden Holm, and Mrs. Holm, of Omaha.

From the left are Mrs. Phillip Dunning, president of the Sunrise Opti-Mrs. Club; Mrs. Bussard; Mrs. Holm; and Mrs. Chris Beck, president of the Lincoln Opti-Mrs. Club.

NU DAMES ELECT

The University of Nebraska Dames met Thursday evening in the TV lounge of Sellen Quad for the group's annual election of officers.

Heading the group for the coming year will be (seated, left to right) Mrs. Wayne Heckt, vice-president; Mrs. Robert Gallawa, president, and Mrs. Richard Dunn, treasurer, (standing, from left) Mrs. Robert Nagel, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Roy Ronnfeldt, recording secretary.

The Dames is an organization for the wives of University of Nebraska undergraduate students.

NWU Science Students Overcoming Space Satellite Viewing Obstacles

Seemingly forgotten economy and ingenuity are helping Nebraska Wesleyan University science students prepare for their part in the nation-wide earth satellite viewing project that may begin as early as next January.

The economy came to play when they volunteered to operate the viewing station and began to look around for money to buy the equipment needed. None was available, so when people interested in the project agreed to contribute some money the students said they would make each dollar go as far as possible.

To do that they had to call on their ingenuity.

Instead of buying the 10 "moonscopes" needed (moonscopes are special scopes for the viewing) they bought one. Then they redesigned parts of it so they could manufacture the scopes in the Wesleyan industrial arts laboratory.

Cost Halved

Thus each scope cost about half of what it would have normally cost.

National officials of the "Moonwatch" have said that the Wesleyan group is unusual because it is predominately an all-student group. Wesleyan Professors Carroll Moore and Walter French are directing the project, but students are "doing most of the work," they said.

The national project is being coordinated by the Smithsonian Institution Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass. Wesleyan is the only registered viewing station in Nebraska.

Sixteen students are helping with the project:

Vic Promises Blind School Re-Inspection At Meeting

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

Governor Victor Anderson Thursday told four representatives of the Parents of Blind Children in Nebraska that he will ask that the school building at the Nebraska School for the Blind at Nebraska City be re-inspected after the new dormitory there is completed.

The group requested the meeting with Anderson to ask what could be done about replacing the school which they termed a "fire trap" providing inadequate facilities.

Representing the organization were Mrs. Jerry Adams, Mrs. Glen Hanley and Harold Spels of Lincoln, and Dr. William Jurgensen of Omaha.

The governor said he will have a committee conduct an investigation of the institution, and if charges that the building is a fire trap are borne out "I will recommend that the facilities be improved."

"Economy"

"But," he added, "I have to carry on with an economy program and I feel that the children at the institution are being well cared for and that the state is taking care of the students' immediate needs."

The representatives said they were concerned about the proposed division of funds under LB 30, the measure which would continue the building levy for another 10 years but reduce the levy from 1.10 mills to .75 mill.

The bill also calls for reducing the allocation to the Board of Control which has charge of the Nebraska School for the Blind.

braska School for the Blind. The bill would allocate 10 per cent of the revenue to the Board as opposed to the present division of 45 per cent.

Speaking on the present conditions of the school, Gov. Anderson said a sprinkler system installed in the school since 1954 prevents the building from being a fire trap.

"Right Thing"

The governor said that in his opinion the Board of Control "certainly is doing the right thing for the blind children."

Dr. Jurgensen said his group had received a letter from the state fire marshal's office which was construction of a new school was warranted. The group also reported it was understood the Board of Control also wants a new school.

Anderson said it had been his understanding the Board considered a gymnasium to be the next necessary construction following completion of the new $500,000 dormitory.

The governor explained his position on the building fund levy and said that in view of the drought experienced in Nebraska and its apparent continuation, he felt the $3,000,000 which would be raised in two years by a half-mill levy would be sufficient to meet the state's most pressing needs.

Committee

He also explained his recommendations that no definite allocations be established under the building fund levy measure, but that a five-man committee be set-up to distribute the funds according to need.

"I am absolutely opposed to giving any agency a blank check," the governor continued.

Anderson said it is the state's responsibility to see there is no great danger to the lives and well-being of persons in any state institution, but added, "We have to meet the situation as it is."

The governor continued, "I represent the people of all the state and I have to consider what the taxpayers can afford. We have to take first things first under the present conditions."

SCHOOL DISTRICT ANNEXATION BILL REVIVED

Sen. Tom Dooley of Papillion Thursday won 24-8 legislative approval of his motion to place a school district annexation bill on general file although the Education Committee had killed it by a 5-1 vote.

Dooley is chief introducer of the measure, LB 447, which provides that a school district cannot annex a Class I district unless the action is approved by a majority of voters in the district to be annexed.

He said he will offer an amendment so that the bill would not apply when the Class I district is within a mile of a metropolitan district. This proposal erased some of the objections of Omaha senators.

Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth had less luck on his attempt to revive a committee-killed bill to raise beer and liquor taxes.

Twenty-two favorable votes were needed but he got only 16 on his motion to revive LB 241, which the Revenue Committee had killed.

ONE BILL PASSED

The Legislature Thursday approved 39-0 LB 64, which changes certain fees paid to the Banking Department and provides for fees in certain situations where none are required now. Senators Arthur Swanson and Otto Kotouc Sr. were the introducers.

Crisis in Baseball

America's national pastime, baseball is 80 years old but suffering growing pains.

Is the government going to get interested again in the "reserve clause" and whether it violates players' rights? What about TV? Anti-queated parks? Lack of parking space? What about expansion to new and booming areas like the West Coast, the Southwest and Canada?

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick says the game is entering a new and vital area. He won't say it's a period of crisis, but others do.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS

By Arthur 'Bugs' Boer

Seems the Supreme Court leans further backward than an astronaut with a warped telescope. It's reversed itself oftener than a caged puma.

Franklin Delano almost broke the bank when he tried to make the White House a prep school for jurisprudence in a gimmickry.

In the self-funding struggle between the affirmative and the negative, Franklin wanted to be on both sides like a cat going through a picket fence. He figured to increase the court to 15 gowns and a wardrobe mistress.

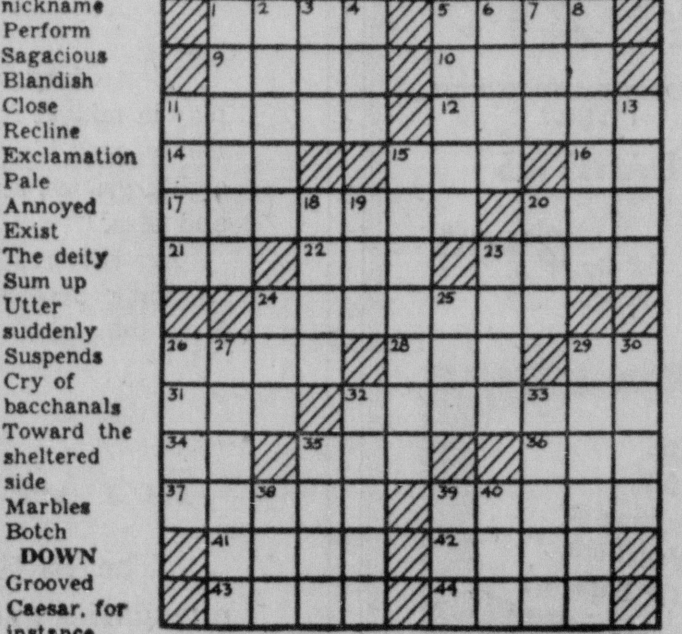

That fell through like a fat boy in a hammock. Why over-populate the huddle when the other side has the ball?

Right now the court is trying to decide when a security risk is in a sensitive spot. When he's picking a tune with his teeth on a wire-haired pancake?

When he's doing a hesitation

Utica Tops In Class D

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Writer

Utica, the only Nebraska high school basketball team with a perfect 1956-57 record, is the number one team in The Star's final Class D ratings.

Coach Jack Wood took over the Utica helm just last fall. He inherited the club that his former Wesleyan teammate Lyle Buell led to a fifth-place rating in 1956.

Utica beat Nebraska's best en route to the NSAA tournament championship last week and climbed from second place in the pre-tournament chart.

To do this, Utica had to beat undefeated Western in the Osceola D playoff finals.

With 6-5 Dennis Semin in the post and speedy Roger Reiling and Allan Ellis scoring well, Utica won the Seward County and Crossroads Conference tournaments in addition to the records of The Star's Top Ten Class D teams:

to the district, playoff and state titles.

Utica replaces Brady as the champions. Last year, Brady, like Utica this season, was Nebraska's only team with a perfect record.

Western's unsuccessful bid for a fourth straight trip to the tournament was halted by Utica but Western ranks second in the final chart. This was the last season at Western for Coach Junior Ferebee.

Center, state tournament runnerup, is a strong third and Verdon is fourth. Verdon shook off an early loss to Stella and got to the state

The Star's Top Ten FINAL CLASS D

2. Western (23-1).
3. Center (29-2).
4. Verdon (16-2).
5. Otoe (24-2).
6. Ruskin (15-3).

tourney by winning a tough playoff.

Otoe, the team which Verdon eliminated in the playoff finals, is a close fifth. Ruskin, double overtime victim of Western in the regional finals at Shickley, is sixth. Ruskin's well-balanced club ran afoul of illness in tourney competition.

Uehling was eliminated by Center in a playoff game but finished with a good record against fair clubs and is seventh.

Bruning, Sprague-Martell and Clatonia round out the Top Ten.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Rival coaches agreed Thursday that Kansas' Wilt Chamberlain is the "dominant factor" in the weekend national college basketball finals, but disagreed widely on what to do about the seven-foot problem.

"I think the only way to stop him is not to let him get his hands on the ball," said Frank McGuire, coach of North Carolina's top-ranking team. "So I wouldn't be surprised if we get to him that we'll freeze the ball."

Phil Woolpert of San Francisco's defending champions, who play this year—but we meet North Carolina first and we don't put on our skates until we get to the rink."

Michigan State and North Carolina clash in the first semifinal game at the Municipal Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. (CST). San Francisco and Kansas meet in the second game at 9:30 p.m. (CST).

McGuire, former coach at St. John's in Brooklyn, said he had seen Chamberlain play many games in the Borscht Belt circuit in the summer and he added:

"He is a basketball player who will scare most people. He is a mental hazard. If you stop his scoring, he may break your back with his rebounding. He can do a lot of things with a basketball."

Oklahoma A&M beat Kansas, 56-54, with Iba's "game control" tactics very effective.

"Iba's team played one of its finest games," conceded Kansas' new young coach, Dick Harp. "The Aggies let Chamberlain roam free and pressed the other fellows. The result was Wilt made 36 points but none of the other Kansans made more than six."

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Art Aragon onetime third-ranking welterweight, was sentenced to prison for a term of 1 to 5 years Thursday for offering a $500 bribe to fix a fight.

Attorney Jules Covey who made an impassioned plea for a new trial for Aragon, said he would appeal the case to a higher court.

In rejecting a motion for a new trial Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker said he felt the jury verdict finding Aragon guilty of offering a bribe to Dick Goldstein was "perfectly proper and perfectly supported by the evidence."

Judge Walker also rejected a recommendation by the probation department that Aragon be granted probation rather than sentenced to prison.

"Probation normally is given to an individual who shows some recognition that he has done wrong," he said.

"In this probation report there is not one scintilla of evidence that this defendant recognizes that he committed a crime."

"And the court has to consider the magnitude of the crime. We have here a man who attained an enviable reputation in the boxing world, a man who is supposed to be looked up to. Crimes of this nature are not small things."

His chief accuser, Goldstein, was not in court. It was largely on Goldstein's testimony that Aragon offered to pay him to "take a dive" in the fourth round of a bout scheduled for San Antonio, Tex., last December that Aragon was convicted. The bout never came off as Aragon fell ill.

Aragon stood calmly by his attorneys as Judge Walker pronounced sentence. He showed no emotion then or when he was led from the courtroom by the bailiff.

In arguing for a new trial, Covey offered "to prove that Goldstein is an unmitigated liar." In support of this statement he introduced an affidavit by an acquaintance of Goldstein's who said Goldstein told him Aragon was innocent.

The prosecution introduced a counter-affidavit by Goldstein denying he had said any such thing.

If the sentence is upheld, it probably marks the end of Aragon's colorful career, during which he won the name Golden Boy and established himself as the best boxing draw in Los Angeles.

The 29-year-old fighter had 94 fights, won 74, lost 14 and had 6 draws.

Berrios 7-5 Favorite
NEW YORK (AP) — Tiny Miguel Berrios of Puerto Rico is a 7-5 choice to defeat clever Carmelo Costa of Brooklyn tonight in the opening round of the featherweight elimination tournament to determine a successor to retired champion Sandy Saddler.

KEARNEY THINCLADS BYPASS WESLEYAN

KEARNEY—Nebraska Wesleyan won seven races but scored only nine and one-half points in field events at Kearney State Teachers College beat the Plainsmen 109-55 in a track and field meet here Thursday.

Kearney depth rolled up big point totals in all field events. The defending Nebraska College Conference champs slammed the high jump, the shot put and the broad jump.

Wesleyan's domination of the races was offset by a Kearney sweep of the four mile places, a one-two-three Kearney finish in the two-mile and three places in the 100.

Best time of the day was turned in by Wesleyan's Dean Sell, ex-Lincoln High handymen who ran a 3:16 quarter mile. Lefty Hixson, crack Wesleyan half-miler, was held out of his pet event and was third in the quarter.

Truman Burton, Kearney distance ace, was the only double winner. He captured the mile and two mile events.

Results: Mile—Won by Truman Burton (K); 2-King (K); 3-Snell (K); 4-Harsin (K). Time—4:47.6.

440-yard dash—Won by Dean Sell (W); 2-Hoehner (K); 3-Hixson (W); 4-Armstrong (K). Time—3:16.

100-yard dash—Won by Don Johnson (K); 2-Faller (K); 3-W. McNaught (K); 4-McFarland (K). Time—10.3.

880-yard relay—Won by Wesleyan (Jim Carr, Dick Keller, Bob Cecil, Walby McNaught). Time—1:34.2.

Broad jump—Won by Bill Surface (K); 2-Chase (W); 3-Cook (W); 4-Sprague (K). Distance—142.7.

Pole vault—Won by Dale Faller (K); tie for 2nd and 3rd between Hagan (K) and Bill McNaught (W); tie for 4th among Sprague (K), Hatcher (K) and Smith (K). Height—11.6.

Javelin—Sprague (K); 2-Stone (K); 3-McGowan (W); 4-Thorell (K). Distance—179.45.

High jump—Tie for first and second between Bob Cray (K) and Gene Lawhead (K); 2-Main (K); tie for 4th among Nun (K), Ozane (K) and Nickell (K). Height—5-11.

Shot put—Won by Jim Hansen (K); 2-Surface (K); 3-Boroff (K); 4-Armstrong (K). Distance—44.9.

Coaches Recommend Free Throw Change

KANSAS CITY (AP) — College basketball coaches today recommended a change in the one-and-one bonus foul rule to make it conform with the system used by the Big Ten Conference.

The Big Ten plan calls for one shot on the first six fouls in each half except those made against a player in the act of shooting. After that, the one-and-one rule prevails with an extra foul shot given if the first one is made.

The coaches' recommendation, which passed by a substantial 77-23 vote, now goes to the Rules Committee, which meets Sunday and Monday.

Robert L. Munger, 31, has accepted a position as outdoor writer and sportswriter with the Lincoln Journal.

Munger has been Chief of the Information and Education Division of the Nebraska Game Commission since 1956.

Chiefs Ink Slugger, Four Other Players

Five more players have inked 1957 contracts with Lincoln's championship Chiefs.

Tony Washington, a young slugger from Washington, D.C., tops the list. The 20-year old left-hand hitting first baseman hit .313 for Grand Forks of the Class C Northern League last year. He blasted 21 homers to lead his club and topped the entire league with his 36 doubles. In 121 games he had 90 runs batted in, stole 20 bases, and scored 97 runs.

A Grand Forks teammate, outfielder Bennie Crompton, also is signed. Crompton hit a healthy .336 with 21 doubles, 12 homers, and 39 stolen bases in 110 games.

Harry Dunlop, a former Lincoln player who hit .250 at Williamsport in the Eastern League, returned his signed pact. Dunlop played with the Chiefs in 1955.

Others inking contracts include pitcher Charlie Bullock, 6-2 left-hander, who was 7-15 for Williamsport, and Southpaw Joe Perrotta, who had a 1-1 record at New Orleans in the Southern Association, and 7-9 for a poor Kinston entry in the Class B Carolina circuit.

Fourteen of the Chiefs' 23 players are now signed.

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant

Sports Editor, The Star

Bill Jennings' newly installed football regime at Nebraska, got a tremendous boost from the announcement by Virgil Williams that he had chosen the Cornhusker school as the place to get an education and play football.

The North High all-star—probably the outstanding star in last fall's prep field—has been sought after by numerous colleges and universities, including Kansas, Iowa State, Iowa, Purdue, Oklahoma A&M, Navy and Minnesota.

But the Viking ace has decided to cast his lot with Jennings and the Huskers.

Reasons? Virg had plenty of those: "friendliness and interest everyone displayed" probably topped the list.

He also said, according to news stories, "If I have any potential at all, they'll bring it out at Nebraska."

Williams' father is also happy about the decision because "Virgil will be at home at Nebraska" . . . The Huskers are "going to do great things under Jennings."

Omaha, long shunned by NU coaches, has finally been interested in Nebraska by Jennings and the result will be more and more fine prep athletes coming to NU from that area.

That's a big step in the right direction.

Short shots . . . The Albuquerque Dukes have slated 14 exhibition games after they start spring training at Seguin, Tex., on March 26. Three of the games will be with the Topeka Hawks, while Amarillo is on the state for a pair. . . . 11 Dukes from last year's club are on the spring roster: Pitchers Dick Drilling, Al Bauhofer, Ernie Funk, Tom Lovrich, Al Osorio and Ted Shandor; Catcher Jake Lasby; Infielders Max Gnagy, Lew Hull and Jim Moore; and Outfielders Keith Jones and Chuck Lundgreen. . . . Henry Nicholas Culp is replacing Bob Swift as Albuquerque manager.

. . . Work on installing the new light towers at Sherman Field has already begun. GM Dick Wagner has high hopes the modern arcs will be ready for opening night, but he's taking no chances. The old poles will remain where they are and all hooked up until the last minute—just in case. . . . Speaking of baseball, the Lincoln Optimists have contributed a lot to the game, both from the standpoint of their interest in the Chiefs' ticket promotions and their youth program. Four ex-Optimists are seeking jobs in higher professional leagues this spring: Ron Bayless, Yogi Hergenrader, Bill Bergstrasser and Rudy Goehr. . . . Rex Ekwall and Gary Reimers, Jerry Bush's two fine cagers, wound up 9th and 10th, respectively, in the final Big Seven scoring race. . . . Jack Baer's Oklahoma baseball team boasts three famous names: Steve Owen, Eddie Fisher and Allie Reynolds. Reynolds is the only authentic celebrity. His dad is the ex-Yankee Super Chief.

Pitching Biggest Nebraska Problem

Pitching poses the biggest problem for Tony Sharpe as he readies his Nebraska baseball team for its season opener against Drake on April 5.

Dick Geier, top 1956 southpaw, has graduated and Willie Greenlaw, the Huskers' other ace finger last season, has been dropped from school for scholastic deficiencies.

Charles Ziegenbein, Roger Bortoff and Dwight Siebler appear now as the top moundsmen.

Don Brown, leading hitter for the Huskers last season with a mark of .446, also graduated along with Norman Coufal, shortstop. Greenlaw, who played the outfield when not pitching, hit .311. The balance of team power and overall hitting has been lost, Sharpe said.

Another handicap to the Huskers is the loss of the southern trip due to a late Easter vacation. This will hamper the early conditioning, Coach Sharpe said. Also the new schedule in the Big Seven Conference which calls for a single game on Fridays and doubleheaders on Saturday will place an added burden on the inexperienced mound corps.

Oklahoma appears to be a national contender this season, Sharpe said. Kansas, finishing third with a sophomore club a year ago, is in contention along with Missouri's perennial stout contender.

April 5-6-Drake; 12-13-Kansas State; 16-17-at Air Force Academy; 19-20-at Colorado; 22-23-Iowa State; May 10-11-at Missouri; 17-18-Oklahoma; 21-22-at Kansas.

All Big Seven games will be three-game stands. A doubleheader (7 innings each game) is scheduled for each Saturday.

Bradley, Memphis State Cagers Win NIT Battles

Victors Clash Saturday For Tournament Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Bradley's second-seeded Braves, strong enough to lick the upset plague, and unheralded Memphis State, swift and fired up to create upsets, moved into the final round of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament Thursday night. Bradley routed Temple 94-66 after Memphis State had squeezed out an 80-78 overtime victory over favored St. Bonaventure.

N Club Mails Applications

"N" Club Scholarship Trophy applications are being mailed to Nebraska high schools this week. This trophy was revived a year ago and is presented to each high school where the athletic letter men rank higher scholastically than the total school average.

Schools are divided by enrollment. Schools with less than 100 enrollment a year ago had three winners, Bennington, Dodge and Walton. Neligh was the winner in the 100 to 299 class and Lexington won the 300-600 class. Alvo won a place on the honor roll.

Baseball To Get $9 Million For TV Rights

NEW YORK (AP)—Organized baseball, with only the Milwaukee Braves and Kansas City A's out of the picture, will collect a record $9,300,000 this year for the rights to broadcast and telecast major league games. This represents an increase of 50 per cent or $3,100,000 over 1956.

CONNOLLY, CZECH DISCUS CHAMPION WILL MARRY

VIENNA (AP)—Czechoslovakia's Red rulers relented to cupid Thursday. They gave permission for Harold Connolly, America's Olympic hammer throw champion, to marry comely Olga Fikotova, Czechoslovakia's Olympic discus champion. It was a difficult decision because it means the American will carry off the country's only Olympic medal winner.

The couple will be married in Prague next Wednesday, culminating a romance that began at last year's Melbourne Olympic Games and survived Communist delays and red tape.

EX-CHIEFS GOSS, New Golf Course BROWN DROPPED Opens Saturday

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—Two members of the 1956 Lincoln Chiefs who have been working out with the Pittsburgh Pirates' spring training squad were cut Thursday.

Pitcher Jackie Brown and outfielder Howie Goss were among four players cut from the squad by Manager Bobby Bragan. Infielder Corky Glamp and pitcher Al Jackson were also dropped.

Goss was assigned to Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League. Brown and the other players were sent to the Pirates' minor league camp at Jacksonville for reassignment.

LHS To Honor Athletes Tonight

The Lincoln High pep organization, the Peppers, will honor Link athletes at the annual Winter Sports Banquet tonight.

The dinner will feature the presentation of letters to members of the 1956-57 Lincoln High wrestling, swimming, gymnastics and basketball teams along with honoring the coaches in the respective sports.

Bill Jennings, head football coach at the University of Nebraska, will be the guest speaker. The affair is scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Uni High Banquet Slated Tonight

Students from University High School will elect a king and queen at their athletic banquet, 6:30 p.m. Friday at the Cornhusker Hotel. The banquet will honor the school's track and basketball teams.

Parents and faculty members will also attend the banquet which will feature addresses by student athletic representative, John Olson, and Coach Dale Snook. Mary Rule, president of the pep club, will be toastmistress.

A dance will be held following, with Bill Albers orchestra providing the music.

Climax of the evening will be the revelation of king and queen, who are chosen by student vote from among outstanding athletes and pep club leaders.

The four finalists for king are John Olson, Marvin Bauer, Bob Larsen and Don Luehr. Finalist candidates for queen are Katherine Craiglow, Mabel Runge, Lois Miller and Mary Rule.

Third-Year Champions

The Tabernacle Christian basketball team won the Class A Church League championship for the third year in a row. The team was undefeated in league play. Team members are (left

ABC Champs At Hollywood Bowl

The current American Bowling Congress champions the Falstaffs, will be in Lincoln Saturday. The members of the nationally famous bowling team are Buddy Bomar, Bill Lillard, Bill Bunetta, Don Ellis, Stan Gifford and Carl Richard.

The team is scheduled to make its appearance at the Hollywood Bowl, 920 No. 48th Street, at 7:00 p.m. They will bowl a three-game series against a strong local all-star team.

Little League Meet Scheduled Friday

There will be a meeting Friday night at the YMCA of all parents and others interested in a Lincoln Little League baseball program for children under 12.

Local VFW posts have indicated an interest in the program and will be represented at the meeting, according to VFW spokesman Robert Lentz. The meeting will start at 8 p.m.

Junge Re-Elected Prexy Of Civic Baseball Assn.

Officers of the Lincoln Civic Baseball association were re-elected Thursday at a meeting of the directors, held at the Chamber of Commerce.

"We will continue our functions as the corporate liaison between the City of Lincoln and Lincoln Baseball Club, Inc., which is the operating group, better known as The Lincoln Chiefs. We have agreed to lease Sherman Field ball park to them for the 1957 playing season," President Emmett Junge said.

Re-elected with him were Merle C. Rathbun, vice president; Archie J. Bailey, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Martha Rebusdorf, assistant secretary-treasurer.

A resolution of appreciation to the City Council was passed, expressing thanks for the recent appropriation which will make possible important improvements in the ball park lighting system. "When all this work is done, it will bring Lincoln's lighting on a par with most of the Western League ball parks," President Junge declared. Seven other directors are Wheaton Battey, Glenn A. Baldwin, John F. Lawlor, John E. Curtis, Victor E. Friend, Robert C. Russell and Charles "Hungry" Simon.

Blue Numeral Time For Prep Thinclads

It's blue numeral time again among Nebraska high school track athletes. Cards are being mailed to the schools this week by Coach Frank Seignie of the University of Nebraska.

It is a home course affair and points are awarded on the basis of times and performances of the athletes. The more proficient get a full blue numeral with a half-blue going to those not quite able to meet the higher standards.

A new record was established last spring when 1594 numerals were awarded to athletes of 290 schools. Merriman won the team award which goes to the school with the highest percentage of numeral winners among its male enrollment.

Prep Pentathlon Underway Soon

The thirty-seventh annual University of Nebraska selective pentathlon, modeled after the Olympic competition, will soon be in full swing in Nebraska high schools.

Deadline for the return of cards this year will be May 3, Coach Frank Seignie said.

Duane Buchtel, now a freshman at the University of Nebraska, was the individual winner last spring when he competed for Clay Center.

Blair high school won the grand championship with a total of 16,766 points. Alliance won the Class A championship, Wymore in Class C and Alexandria in Class D.

Knights Open Track Slate Against Westside Monday

Basketball season has come and gone at Lincoln Southeast and now track takes over as the next event on the Knight athletic docket.

And cinder coach Roy Churchill isn't letting too much time elapse between the two seasons as he is sending his thinclad crew into its action Monday.

The Knights take on Omaha Westside in Omaha and then get another tour of duty next Friday in a quadrangular meet at Lincoln Northeast.

Churchill reports a turnout of 40 boys at Southeast this season, including six lettermen who are expected to help the Knight cinder fortunes immensely.

Lettermen this season are hurdler Jerry Carlson, quarter-milers Tom Davies and Ron Hill, miler Rich Garlinghouse, sprinter Bill Goldman and high jumper Ron Keal.

Churchill is banking on several outstanding sophomore and first-year prospects to lend a helping hand in his plans for a possible state championship.

Among the top contenders are weight men Bill Van Cleave and Jon Taylor, quarter-miler Dave Barnhouse, hurdler Larry Wood and sprinters Howie Folkman and Dick Harr.

Harr has already been established as the top dash man and Van Cleave and Taylor, who also runs the hurdles, are rated high in the weights.

The schedule to date:

March 25—at Omaha Westside; 29—at Northeast quadrangular (Northeast, Blair, Ashland, Southeast). April 6—Dutch White Relays at Omaha. April 13—Omaha Benson, Pius X, Fairbury quadrangular. 17—Mid-East Conference meet at Wesleyan; 26—Lincoln Public Schools Meet at Wesleyan; 29—at Beatrice. May 2-3-4—District meet; 10-11—State meet.

REDLEGS ROMP AGAIN; SHOCK PHILLIES, 13-10

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs, who dealt the world champion Yankees a 20-6 lacing Wednesday, laid down another base-hit barrage Thursday to beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 13-10.

Robin Roberts and Tommy Qualters took all the punishment as the Redlegs poured seven runs across on 14 hits, one of them a homer by Hal Bevan.

Gene Snyder and Seth Morehead, who worked the last two innings, let down the Redlegs with no runs and one hit—a single that resulted in a putout at second.

The Redlegs wound up with a total of 22 safeties, George Crowe setting the pace with three singles and two doubles in six times up. Rip Repulski led the Phils' 14-hit collection with four singles in five times at bat, but none of them counted in the scoring. Twice he was doubled up by the next batter, Willie Jones.

Home runs—Cincinnati, Bevan, Philadelphia, Kazanski, Kennedy, Smalley, Lonnett.

Brave Homers Pep Win Over Chisox

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Johnny Logan and Wes Covington each blasted three home runs to account for all of Milwaukee's tallies in a 10-7 victory Thursday over the Chicago White Sox.

In the second inning each hit solo homers off Dick Donovan. Tuen Jim Derrington, southpaw bonus baby, became the target.

Logan slammed his second homer with two aboard in the fourth. Derrington was staggered for three more runs in the sixth when Covington homered with one on and Logan followed with another solo.

Milwaukee ..... 020 303 020—10 11 1 Chicago (A) ..... 001 011 040—7 10 0 Phillips, Jay (7) and Grandall; Donovan, Derrington (4); Wilson (7) and Lollar, W-Phillips, L-Donovan.

Home runs—Milwaukee, Logan 3, Covington 3, Chicago (A), Lollar.

Banks Makes '57 Debut In Style; Hits 2 Out

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—Ernie Banks made his exhibition series debut Thursday with two home runs as the Chicago Cubs defeated the Cleveland Indians 5-2 in Rendezvous Park.

Cleveland (A) ..... 001 100 000—4 7 1 Chicago (N) ..... 002 010 20X—5 8 1 Gray, Tommeck (4), Moss (7) and Nixon; Bush, Hillman (5), Brosnan (4) and Neuman, W-Hillman, L-Tommeck.

Home runs—Cleveland, Smith, Mele, Chicago, Baker, Banks 2.

Tigers Clip Nats

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, who at one point lost six straight, ran their winning streak to two—longest of the spring training season—by trouncing the Washington Senators 9-2 Thursday at Lakeland.

Washington ..... 000 000 110—2 7 1 Detroit ..... 100 000 04X—9 12 1 Stone, Shifflet (5), Stewart (7) and Courtney; Lary, Donovan (7) and Wilson. W-Lary, L-Stone.

Home runs—Washington, Hill, Detroit, Bollins.

Dodgers Cuff A's

MIAMI (AP)—Trailing 3-0 in the seventh, the Dodgers scored four runs on homers by Charlie Neal and Don Zimmer and went on to beat the Kansas City A's 6-3 Thursday night.

Kansas City ..... 000 000 100—3 9 0 Brooklyn ..... 000 000 02X—6 6 2 Portocarrero, Cox (5) and Thomson; Besant, Lehman (4) and Walker, Campenella (7). W-Lehman, L-Cox.

Home runs—Kansas City, Skizas, Brocklyn, Neal, Zimmer.

Dennis Doyle, Son Of Husker Great, To Enroll At NU

Dennis S. Doyle son of former Cornhusker football tackle, Ted Doyle of Fairbury, has announced that he will enroll at the University of Nebraska next fall.

Young Doyle, 6 feet 4 and 220 pounds, graduates this spring from Fairbury High School. He ranks eighth in a class of 105 scholastically.

Ted Doyle lettered at Nebraska in 1935-'36-'37 as a tackle. He later played professional football but is now manager of a chemical fertilizer plant at Fairbury. He has played in each of the Alumni-Varsity All Sports Day games. He plans to don the pads again this spring on April 6 for this annual grid battle.

Young Doyle was an all-conference selection and a second team all state choice. He played center offensively and middle guard defensively.

Solons Fix Salary For Commissioner

The legislature decided Thursday to place a $4,000 limit on the annual salary of the proposed new State athletic Commissioner.

That amendment adopted, the senators advanced a bill creating the new post to general file, the first floor step on the way to final passage.

The bill, LB 237, would create the office of Athletics Commissioner, appointed by the Governor, and removing the duties from the jurisdiction of the State Health Department where they reposed.

The same bill would provide for a 10 per cent tax on gross receipts from boxing and wrestling shows, and prescribe a five per cent tax on the fees from sale of television rights.

Omaha Sens. Charles Tyrdik, George Syas and William Moulton introduced the bill.

The amendment setting a $4,000 salary limit on the commissioner was proposed by Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth and adopted on a voice vote.

Committee Advances Bill Authorizing Correspondence School Regulation

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

A bill which would authorize the Department of Education to license privately-owned correspondence schools was advanced to general file by the Legislature's Education Committee Thursday following a public hearing on the measure, LB 349.

The committee also heard testimony on two other bills. LB 351, dealing with investment of school district funds, was advanced to general file by a 6-0 vote and LB 352, which permits a school district to enter into protective insurance contracts, was held for further consideration.

All three bills were introduced by the Education Committee at the request of the State Board of Education.

'To Protect'

Testifying on LB 349, Commissioner of Education Freeman B. Decker told the committee the bill was designed to "protect Nebraska citizens from getting hooked by fly-by-night correspondence schools."

Decker offered amendments to the original measure, making it virtually a new bill.

Approved by the office of the attorney general it provides that no person representing a privately-owned correspondence school located in Nebraska, can sell or solicit such courses for remuneration in Nebraska without being licensed by the Department of Education.

The licensing also applies to privately-owned trade or business schools which give training in residence.

Cost of the license would be $25. The bill also requires posting "a surety bond in the penal sum of $1,500."

Both license and bond would be valid for the calendar year in which they were issued. A renewal license would be $10 plus the surety bond.

The bill also provides that no person will be granted a license unless he is of good moral character.

A penalty clause provides that a violation will be considered a misdemeanor, with a fine of not more than $500 or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months.

Decker read a long list of letters sent his department by persons who complained they had been "taken" by some unreliable correspondence schools.

Number Increasing

He said the number of complaints is rising and suggested the reason might be that other states are "clamping down" on the correspondence schools and they are "now running to Nebraska."

The emergency clause was attached to the bill so it would become law immediately upon passage and signing by the governor.

An amendment adopted for LB 351 would allow investment of school district funds in addition to those allowed under the laws governing investment by the Board of Educational Lands and Funds.

Banks Specified

It permits investment in bonds and debentures issued either singly or collectively by any of the 12 Federal Land Banks, the 12 Federal Intermediate Credit Banks or the 13 Banks for Cooperatives under the supervision of the Farm Credit Administration.

John Eldam, president of the Omaha Bank for Co-operatives; Fred Gilmore, vice president of the Federal Land Bank of Omaha; Dave Davis executive vice president of the Omaha National Bank, and Mrs. Marie Flannigan representing an Omaha investment firm, testified in favor of the bill.

Appearing in favor of LB 352, Decker said there was "nothing compulsory" about the measure. It would merely allow a school district to buy protective insurance, he said.

'Deluge'

Richard Allgood Jr., executive secretary of the Nebraska Association of Insurance Agents, told the committee there had been a "deluge of law suits against school districts in the nation recently and also a deluge of accidents."

He said courts have held that governmental subdivisions lose their governmental immunity to law suits when they enter into any proprietary enterprise such as collection of fees for athletic events.

Sen George Syas of Omaha questioned Allgood on the possibility that authorizing school districts to buy insurance might open up a rash of unnecessary law suits.

Insurance Group Elects Clarkson Man

Joseph L. Jindra of Clarkson, Neb., has been elected president of the State Association of Mutual Insurance Companies.

At the group's annual convention in Lincoln, Jindra was chosen as next year's convention city. Others elected were L. W. Edwall, Blue Springs, vice president; and Charles C. Zimmerman, Battle Creek, secretary-treasurer.

Elected to the executive committee were Walter Fleer, North Platte; Theodore Lemke, Madison; and Arthur Schultz, Clearwater.

Elected to the legislative committee were Dwight Perkins and Jack Zimmer of Lincoln and R. D. Campbell of Omaha.

In the closing sessions of the two-day meeting the convention was addressed by Byron Dunn, president of the National Bank of Commerce on insurance company investments.

Sad St. Bernard Is Most Popular Accused 'Slayer'

KENTON, Ohio (AP) — A sad-faced St. Bernard is one of the most popular accused slayers in Hardin County history.

A steady stream of sympathizers, many of them children little bigger than the 105-pound dog have visited Annie in her "cell" since her "arrest" Feb. 25.

Four-year-old Annie is accused of killing a sheep on the Emerson Fay farm two miles west of here early on that date.

Mrs. Joan Perkins, mother of the dog's owner, who is in the service insists Annie is innocent and has obtained a temporary court injunction preventing the County Dog Warden from destroying Annie.

While Mrs. Perkins and her supporters seek a permanent injunction, Annie, with a face that could sway any jury, gazes silently through the "bars" of a local kennel at her admirers.

County Board Pay Increase Advances

A measure increasing salaries of county board members was advanced Thursday to general file by the Legislature's Salaries and Claims Committee.

LB 451, introduced by Sens. John Aufenkamp of Julian and Norval Dame of Stratton, was sent to the legislative floor on a 4-1 vote. It was amended in committee.

In other action, the committee unanimously advanced to general file a bill changing the manner of determining retirement pay for Nebraska Safety Patrolmen.

During the hearing, Gov. Victor Anderson asked for an amendment to LB 579 to provide for adequate protection of wives of patrolmen killed in the line of duty.

LB 579 was a committee-sponsored measure.

Action Taken By Committee On 10 Bills

Six bills were advanced to the floor of the Legislature and four postponed indefinitely by the Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committee Thursday.

Among those measures advanced to general file was LB 265, co-authored by Sens. Arthur Swanson of Holdrege and Mervin Bedford of Geneva, which gives contracts entered into by women the same validity as those entered into by married men.

Other bills advanced to general file included:

LB 92, introduced by Omaha Sens. Charles Tyrdik and Karl Vogel, which relates to gifts of securities and money to minors and makes the law uniform with reference thereto.

LB 367, introduced by Sen. Hans Jensen of Aurora, which authorizes county hospitals to issue warrants to pay claims against the hospital.

LB 522, introduced by Sens. Otto Liebers of Lincoln and Otto Kotouc of Humboldt, which excepts assessment associations issuing policies on growing crops for protecting losses.

LB 25, amended to add the emergency clause, introduced by Sen. William Moulton of Omaha, revises provisions and penalties on violations under installment loan statutes.

LB 286, introduced by Sens. Swanson and Kotouc, revises statutes relating to group insurance and sets minimum number eligible to constitute employee group for group life insurance.

Killed in committee were LB's 357, 181, 552 and 434.

LB 357 permitted payroll deductions from governmental employees for U. S. Savings Bond purchases.

LB 181 provided that no motor vehicle be registered except on proof of financial security by the owner.

LB 552 provided that State Banking Department orders prohibiting withdrawal of share payments and dividends of a cooperative credit association automatically end three years after entry unless action is initiated to dissolve the association.

LB 434 authorized building and loan associations to make loans in excess of three-fourths of cash value of improved real estate security.

-Bridgeport- BAYARD MAN ENTERS PLEA OF INNOCENT

BRIDGEPORT, Neb. (INS) — John Williston, night marshal at Bayard, Neb., pleaded innocent Thursday to a charge of second-degree murder in the death last Christmas Day of a South Dakota man.

Judge Robert McFarland set bond at $2,000 after Williston was arraigned in Morrill County Court at Bridgeport.

The judge, who indicated he would disqualify himself from trying the case, set an indefinite date for the hearing.

Judge McFarland was one of the original petitioners for a grand jury hearing in the case.

Freed By Jury

Williston, 48, was absolved by a coroner's jury of a criminal act in the shooting of Jacob Pretty Cloud, of Pine Ridge, S.D., but petitions were circulated calling for a grand jury investigation of the case.

The grand jury request was denied earlier this week by District Judge C. G. Perry, and County Attorney J. C. Conover filed the murder charge.

Williston said at the inquest that he aimed a shot over the head of Pretty Cloud after breaking up a street brawl in Bayard. He said he was unaware of having hit the man until he found his body several hours later.

Peter L. Hansen Funeral Saturday

MILFORD, Neb. — Funeral services for Peter Lewis Hansen, 86, will be 1 p.m. Saturday at Volland's Chapel in Milford, the Rev. Charles Gray officiating.

Graveside services will be at 3 p.m. at the Wahoo Cemetery.

A former resident of the Wahoo area, Mr. Hansen had been a farmer. He later lived in Lincoln and for the past four years has made his home with a niece, Mrs. Arthur Sterns of Pleasant Dale. Survivors include Mrs. Sterns and several other nieces and nephews of Lincoln.

CITY COUNCIL, MAYOR FEUD AT GRAND ISLAND GETS POLICE AID

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP) — A police officer was called in to sit with the Grand Island city council during a heated session brought on by a feud of several weeks standing between Mayor Merle E. McDermott and seven of the eight council members.

The officer was brought into the chamber in the event of a disturbance, but none occurred.

The hectic meeting was triggered by a salary claim brought up for a former employee, Leo Mulligan, through former Mayor Harry Griminger, and previously turned down.

WATER RATE REDUCTION APPROVED

Lincoln Star Special

DAVID CITY, Neb. — A reduction in water rates for David City consumers has been approved by the City Council following a study of the Water Department's financial standing. The rate cut is ten per cent for all water used over the base minimum and it goes into effect on first quarter water bills.

The Council reserved the right to make a contract rate with large industrial users.

C. K. Nixon, chairman of the Light and Water Committee, informed the Council a study by the committee and City Utilities Supt. M. E. Wright showed the reduction could be made without impairing the financial condition of the department.

It was pointed out that water rates were increased in 1950 to help cover the cost of an expansion program in the department which has now been completed and paid for from water revenue.

Currently the city has five wells which can supply its water needs. Four of them have been drilled and placed in service in the past ten years.

In addition to the wells, the department has added nine blocks of extensions and five additional fire hydrants in the past five years. During the past three summers the city has had sufficient water supply that the water rates were sliced in half during the summer quarter for residential users to encourage them to water their lawns and gardens.

Ike's Support Is Urged On Charter Assuring Oil Transit Through Mideast

... Macmillan Offers Plan

TUCKER'S TOWN — Prime Minister Macmillan asked President Eisenhower Thursday to help launch an international charter assuring freedom of oil transit through the Mideast. Informants said Eisenhower expressed sympathetic interest in the proposal.

Conference experts were ordered to work out plans and report back on them.

Delegates reported Macmillan outlined plans of big oil companies to build new pipelines linking the rich Iraqi fields with the Mediterranean by way of Turkey, and connecting the Iranian fields with the Persian Gulf terminal. The overall purpose is to lessen the dependence of oil producing and consuming countries on the Suez Canal as an international lifeline.

Macmillan argued that if the companies undertake such multi-million dollar projects they are entitled to rely on government help to secure long term freedom of oil transit.

Code of Conduct

He reportedly spoke in terms of spelling out a code of conduct to bind the affected countries—Turkey, Iraq and Iran—to pay the same respect for freedom of oil transit which other nations pay to freedom of navigation on the high seas.

American officials indicated Eisenhower's reaction "not wholly noncommittal." A British proposal calling for a treaty between the United States and Britain as great oil powers on the one hand and Iraq, Iran and Turkey on the other hand, accordingly was referred to experts for further study and an early report back.

Other nations of the Mideast would be free to adhere to such a convention, informants said.

Blown Up

Behind the proposal lies the unhappy experience suffered by western European nations in the wake of the British-French-Israeli attacks on Egypt. In Syria, where a leftist government is in power, two pumping stations along the pipeline which carries oil from the rich Iraqi fields to the Mediterranean were blown up last November. About the same time Saudi Arabia cut off the flow of oil through lines terminating in Bahrain.

Both acts reflected the two countries' political solidarity with Egypt.

The Prime Minister feels further that the Syrian and Arabian action reflected what his government regards as extreme irresponsibility which resulted in avoidable privation to many countries not involved in the Suez dispute.

Rites Pending For Mrs. Francis Geer

Funeral services are pending for Mr. Francis Newburn Geer, 86, of 1212 Plum, who died Wednesday.

A Lincoln resident for 55 years, she was born at Western and had lived all her life in the state.

Mrs. Geer was a member of First Christian Church, the White Rose Club, LA to B of RT, Charity Rebekah Lodge 2, Circle 2, Vine Camp Lodge 3720 of Royal Neighbors, LEA 4 and LA PM-IOOF 2.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Mae Sipp of Lincoln; sons, Orin D. and Harvey Newburn, both of Lincoln, and Ted of Long Beach, Calif.; sisters, Mrs. Dora Shoenburg of Newton, Kan., Mrs. Sebia Mathewson of Wichita, Kan., and Mrs. Syrdia Slater of Lincoln; brother, Thomas Graham of Lewiston, Mont.; granddaughters, Mrs. Hazel Norman and Mrs. Francis Baker, both of Lincoln; nine great-grandchildren; five great-great-grandchildren; several nieces and nephews.

Nurse Does About-Face

LONDON — Nurse Caroline Randall, who had accused Dr. John Bodkin Adams of drugging a patient to death with heroin, did an about-face at his murder trial Thursday.

She testified there was no justification for her earlier testimony in a preliminary hearing.

The 58-year-old society physician, Dr. Adams, left Old Bailey Criminal Court at the end of the day with a broad yawn and a big smile, apparently well satisfied with the courtroom performance of Attorney Geoffrey Lawrence.

Lawrence is defending him against the charge that he drugged to death for profit 81-year-old Mrs. Edith Morrell, an eccentric widow who died in 1950. Her body was cremated.

Lawrence had been grilling the nurse four hours when he suddenly asked:

"There was really no justification for your ever saying that heroin prescribed by Dr. Adams affected Mrs. Morrell adversely?"

There was a pause in the crowded courtroom. Then the grey-haired heavy-built nurse replied:

"No, I suppose not."

Confronting the witness with remarks she had written in record books while nursing Mrs. Morrell, Lawrence got her to agree that when Dr. Adams gave morphine, heroin and other drugs he was only "trying to give her rest and comfort."

"Yes," said the nurse, "I suppose you are right."

Miss Randall testified that it was another physician, looking after Mrs. Morrell when Dr. Adams was on vacation, who stepped up the dosage of drugs to keep her quiet.

The old lady, she said, was restless and at times hysterical.

Sculptor, 'Retired' And Nearing Golden Anniversary, Still Busy

By NANCY BENJAMIN
Star Staff Writer

In active retirement after 32 years of work in Lincoln and 23 years in Germany as a stone and wood sculptor, Ervin Goeller of 1420 No. 20th, is still busy in his basement workshop.

Goeller and his wife, Dorothea, came to Lincoln from Germany on May 5, 1924 and are celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary Saturday.

Goeller's career in carving started at the age of 13 he began his apprenticeship with a stone carver in Germany. In 1907, he married Mrs. Goeller in Giessen, Germany.

Since coming to Lincoln, Goeller worked steadily for a local stone company until his retirement. His work is now displayed throughout the Midwest.

Working in marble, alabaster, wood and many other sculpturing mediums—including ivory—Mr. Goeller can talk for hours about his exciting career.

Worked On Capitol

Except for the misfortune of closed immigration quotas, Mr. and Mrs. Goeller might have arrived in Nebraska earlier. Goeller was offered the assignment of doing the stone carving on the Nebraska Capitol Building by Bertrand Goodhue. He sold his studio in Germany and was ready to leave, when he was informed that immigration was closed.

Later, however, he did some frieze work in the capitol building. He also carved the large stone plaque on the Woodman Accident and Life Co. Building at 16th and K, many grave memorials in Lincoln, and wood and stone carving inside and outside the Scottish Rite Temple, 15th and L.

Now retired from such major projects, Goeller is busy with what he calls "my craziest business". He is building grandfather clocks, complete with a set of the Apostles in wood. The Apostles appear four times during the day, moving around the front of the clock as it strikes, and receiving the blessing of Jesus. The figure of Jesus has carved moving parts.

Goeller's favorites are carving of Jesus and the Madonna, but he branches out to include an ivory tusk carving of a woman measuring 18 inches and many pieces of furniture and works of

Backers of an additional cent gasoline tax reported Thursday that money brought in from the increase would make possible road work on 1,039 miles of state highways at a total cost of $49,417,000 during the 1957-59 biennium. A bill, LB 375, to raise gasoline taxes from six to seven cents was heard before the Legislature's Revenue Committee and was opposed by lobbyists from the trucking industry. State Engineer L. N. Renshaw reported the extra cent is needed or plans for construction of the Interstate Highway system through Nebraska cannot be completed. The extra cent would bring in around $5 million a year

CV Adventists Mark Youth Plan Birthday

College View Seventh-day Adventist Church will observe the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Young People's Missionary Volunteer Department with special programs on Friday and Saturday. The world-wide organization had its official beginning in Lincoln in 1907 with Pastor M. E. Kern, then a history professor at Union College, as its first chairman.

Friday evening a pageant depicting the beginning and growth of the department will be presented at 8 p.m. at Union College auditorium. Pastor Kern will challenge the Missionary Volunteer members to go forward with the same courage and spirit as did the pioneers in

SEEK MISSING EX-RANCHER

OMAHA — Omaha police were asked Thursday to help find a retired Cody, Neb., rancher, who disappeared Saturday after withdrawing $11,000 from an Omaha bank. He is Roy J. Bowling, 52, Omaha. Bowling's wife Frances, said Thursday her husband had gone downtown on a shopping trip with a daughter Saturday, dropped her off at her home but never returned. She said she learned later her

'Human Error'

HONOLULU — A sailor picked up $50,500 beside a road. The sailor, Roy E. Williams, of Biloxi, Miss., noticed two money bags just after a Bank of Hawaii armored car pulled away from a curb. He flagged a passing policeman and turned the bags, and their contents over to him.

The armored car company said the bags apparently fell off a ledge of the car when it stopped. Detectives called it a "human error."

Three Iowans Accused Of Giant Check-Kite Scheme

Two Banks Reportedly Suffer A Loss Of $265,000

DES MOINES (AP) — Three Iowa livestock dealers were arraigned on federal postal fraud charges here Thursday in what U.S. District Atty. Roy L. Stephenson described as "a check-kiting scheme" in which the total volume of checks floated totaled more than 37 million dollars.

Government officials said the transactions constitute the largest "check-kiting" case on record in the nation.

Stephenson said two Iowa banks, both insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., had suffered a total initial loss of $265,000 in connection with the transactions. The State Banking Department said bonding companies had fully paid all claims of the banks.

Waive To Grand Jury

Arraigned before U. S. Commissioner E. E. Poston on the charges were Merle Mersman, 42, Colo. 1a; Eldon Viers, 44, Marshalltown, and Howard Stout, 51, Oskaloosa. All three waived to the grand jury and were released on $5,000 bond each. The federal information said the State Bank of Gladbrook suffered an initial loss of $153,000 on check transactions of Viers and Mersman and an initial loss of $56,000 on transactions of Viers and Stout. The complaint against Viers and Stout said the Mahaska State Bank at Oskaloosa also suffered an initial loss of $56,000 on the transactions of the two men.

Long Period Covered

The government charges that Viers and Stout met on virtually each business day between Aug. 24, 1953, and Feb. 4, 1957, and exchanged checks of nearly similar amounts on their respective accounts "knowing . . . there were insufficient funds . . . to pay said checks."

A similar allegation was made against Viers and Mersman for the period Jan. 5, 1955 to Feb. 4, 1957.

No Life Jacket

ALTON, Ill. (AP) — Fisherman David Crawford apparently owes his life to the fact that he wasn't wearing a life jacket—as he should have been—when he fell out of his boat into the Mississippi River.

The 50-year-old Crawford, a competent swimmer, was forced to dive beneath the cold water to avoid being struck by his runaway motorboat as it circled back after the mishap.

Crewmen on a barge fished out the Granite City, Ill., man with a boathook.

'Senators Will Not Alter Tax Setup'—Burney

"The Unicameral is not now or anytime going to change our tax setup," Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney told members of Alpha Zeta, University of Nebraska College of Agriculture men's group, at their annual dinner Thursday night.

He blamed the small size of the legislative group and the lack of backing by constituents who want a change for the situation.

When pressure is brought to bear on 43 senators, he said, it doesn't take many votes to change the outcome. Lt. Gov. Burney said the Legislature needs strong men who can withstand pressure and vote their convictions.

Opposition to a state income tax, Burney added, comes from the industry of the state.

"It discourages industry," he said. "What we need is more industry in Nebraska so our boys and girls do not have to go to another state to get jobs," he said.

The former state senator from Hartington struck out at federal programs.

"We match program after program until the states are fast losing control over their own budget and their program," he said.

Brennan Commission Is Signed By President

TUCKER'S TOWN (AP)—President Eisenhower Thursday signed the commission of William J. Brennan Jr. as associate justice of the Supreme Court.

Press secretary James Hagerty said Eisenhower probably will sign Friday the commission for Charles Evans Whittaker, another new justice.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

One of the difficult jobs of housekeeping is to wax linoleum and asphalt tile floors. Now, thanks to Glaxo, it's no longer necessary to wax and scrub; just apply Glaxo about twice a year. It maintains a high lustre, non slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor.
